

If this is marked with a blue pencil, it shows that your subscription is due (or will be at the end of this month) and must be paid at once or your Avalanche will be stopped.

OVER 5000 TROOPS TO BE IN CAMP

WILL ARRIVE AUG. 3. ARTILLERY COMING AUG. 8.

Train of 47 Cars Needed to Carry 182nd Artillery.

More than 5,000 officers and men of the Michigan National Guard will be moved from their home stations to the Hanson State Military reservation, near Grayling, where they will receive their summer training, in less than 24 hours. This is considered a big achievement in moving so many troops with their equipment and baggage in times of peace.

General Guy M. Wilson, commanding officer of the Sixty-third Infantry brigade, and acting commanding officer of the Thirty-second division, and commanding officer of the camp at Grayling, his staff, state corps staff and departments, and all other officers, and individuals, ordered to camp not included in the movement of troops, will leave their homes so as to arrive in camp not later than 5 p. m., August 3. The camp will open at sunrise August 4 and will continue until August 22, when the artillery regiment leave for their home stations.

It will require a train of 47 cars and coaches to transport the 182nd Field artillery from Detroit to Grayling when it sets forth for its first annual field encampment. The regiment under the command of Colonel Heinrich Pickert will entrain on the Michigan Central tracks at Kirby and Twelfth streets the evening of August 7 and will return from Grayling August 22.

Colonel Pickert has received word from the commanding officer at Grayling to the effect that this regiment has been assigned quarters at the east end of the cantonment, and this news was received with great enthusiasm by the local command because of the fact that this considered a most choice regimental area. On the one side it is very convenient to the station, while only its parade grounds separates the quarters of the officers and men from the beautiful Portage lake.

What a relief it is to find a man who, when you tell him what you want done, goes ahead and does it.

FARM BUREAU NOTES R. D. BAILEY County Agricultural Agent

LIMESTONE LEGUMES LIVESTOCK

MEAN PROFITS IN FARMING

• Our Troubles.

Buck Up—Fight 'Em to a Finish. (Another short chapter on the alluring topic, "Science and the Farmer.")

Rats. It may make certain people smile rather contemptuously when they read this heading on a very familiar, and to some a commonplace subject. Nevertheless I have no hesitation or shame in devoting this entire issue of Farm Bureau Notes to the subject of Freeing Our Premises of Rats, for rats do two hundred million dollars worth of damage to produce and property each year in the United States.

Right Here At Home.

Probably there are few Crawford County farmers who are not greatly annoyed by rats catching young chickens; stealing grain and food, and gnawing and digging everywhere. A lot of these losses can be reduced or stopped if we all try.

When left undisturbed in its chosen abode, the rat increases with almost unbelievable rapidity, and uses unceasingly its highly developed instincts at the ever increasing expense of the housekeeper, farmer, or business establishment harboring it.

How To Do It.

It has been found in the experience of investigators and demonstrators of the Biological Survey of the U. S. Department of Agriculture that a few simple measures consistently employed will rid a farm or community of rats.

Rats can not long survive a steady campaign against them.

Failures to get rid of them is due partly to poor methods, but more to people quitting too soon.

Get Rid of Their Food and Shelter. Most important means of eliminating rat food and shelter are to store foodstuffs in rat-proof containers, to dispose of waste in tightly covered vessels, and to prevent accumulation of trash and refuse.

Lack of food and shelter reduce breeding rate of rats, and increased hunger makes poisoning and trapping easier.

Poisoning.

The best means the Department of Agriculture has found for destroying rats is by poisoning, and poison is recommended wherever it can be used safely.

Powdered Barium Carbonate. The best rat poison yet found by the Department of Agriculture is Powdered Barium Carbonate.

Inquiry at Grayling drug stores shows that this rat poison can be had there at a few cents an ounce. It is odorless and tasteless. Rat baits containing it are readily eaten by the rats.

It is slow in its action, so that rats affected by it have time to leave the premises in search of water or to return to their holes before they die.

How to Bait Rats. A variety of baits used separately not only gives the rats a choice of foods, but tends to make it less suspicious. Baits should be fresh and preferably of good quality.

Recommended Baits. Hamburg steak, sausage, fish, liver, bacon, cheese, thin slices of muskmelon, apple, tomato, or cucumber, canned corn, squash or pumpkin seed, mashed banana, boiled carrot, rolled oats, bread, corn meal, flour or cake.

How to Distribute Rat Poison. Powdered Barium Carbonate should be thoroughly mixed and worked into soft baits in proportion of one part of the poison to four parts of the selected food.

Add water when necessary to make baits moist. Baits moistened until like soft mush are liked very much by rats in dry weather.

With sliced baits, sift Barium Carbonate over them, and rub well in with fingers or knife.

Have slices thin, and slightly moistened if necessary.

How to Distribute Rat Poison.

A teaspoonful of each of the three or more kinds of bait should be exposed in places frequented by rats. In buildings, baits should be set on strips of paper or boards where they may be easily removed.

Another Good Way. Place a teaspoonful of prepared bait in each of several small paper sacks, and drop them in places frequented by rats or where rats can get at them. Close sack by twisting the top. Bait distributed in this way seems to make the rat less suspicious.

It is better not to place sacks at or near rat holes, but, to drop them promiscuously about.

The sacks are usually carried into burrows or behind objects where the contents are eaten in comfort and are more nearly consumed than in the open.

In public places, where there is any possibility that bait will be disturbed by people, sacks should be labeled POISON.

Several Kinds.

Baits of three or more kinds should be exposed in groups. Where rats are abundant, baits may be exposed at intervals of 10 to 20 feet.

Unused baits should be picked up the following morning and burned.

If left exposed in warm places more than one day, the baits will sour and the resulting acid will gradually change the Barium into a bitter and highly objectionable form.

Continue to distribute fresh baits in less quantity each night, repeating those that are freely eaten, and put that kind in place of those rats do not seem to like.

A Trick on the Rats.

In stubborn cases it may be necessary to put out poisoned food, or fresh foods every night until rats take them freely, then substitute the poisoned bait.

In Poultry Houses or Yards.

Poison exposed in poultry inclosures should be put where chickens can not get at them, as behind or under boxes, and it should be very wet, or of such a nature that rats cannot drag it out where chickens can pick it.

Caution—Be Careful.

Barium Carbonate is a relatively mild poison, but the danger from accidents cannot be emphasized too much. Keep it out of the reach of children and irresponsible persons, and from domestic animals and fowls.

Remedy—Antidote.

The remedy if a person is poisoned by Barium Carbonate is to give mustard or salt dissolved in warm water, or to make the person vomit by sticking the finger in the back of the throat. Follow vomiting with a liberal dose of Epsom salts or Glauber salts.

The Cat and the Rat.

It is a good thing to raise a vigorous cat entirely in the barn. Keep her there. Feed her there. Don't let her go to the house to lie around. Don't let children make a pet of her. She will probably catch some rats.

Oh You Trappers!

Even though cat and bait are used, keep the trap going. Set the trigger so that it will release the spring

GRAYLING CREAMERY CHANGES HANDS

JAS. McDONNELL SELLS PLANT
TO HENRY W. KLEIN.

James McDonnell has sold his creamery, known as the Grayling Dairy Products market, to Henry W. Klein of this city. The deal was made Tuesday.

Mr. McDonnell says that he had to give up the work because of the confinement and also not being able to endure working upon cement floors.

This was very much of a surprise to the friends of Mr. McDonnell, and it will be with deep regret that we lose Mr. McDonnell from among the business men.

Mr. Klein has been working at the flooring factory for some time and is no total stranger to the people of Grayling. Before coming to Grayling he was employed in the creamery industry at Lemont, Ill., a dairy station near Chicago. He is an experienced creamery man, and says that he intends to give the people of Grayling good products and good service.

We are sure that everyone will agree that the Creamery has been a wonderful convenience to the people of Grayling. Before it was established it was oftentimes impossible to get milk and cream and many families, even with small children, had to go without these essential articles. Now one can go there at almost any time and get all the milk and cream they want. Hundreds of families have found this a wonderful convenience.

besides milk and cream they had on sale at almost all times, ice cream, fresh butter, buttermilk and delicious cottage cheese. We hope Mr. Klein will make a good success of this business so that we may be assured of this convenience continually. There is little danger of it closing up if the home people will give it their support. Grayling butter is sold in nearly all groceries; ask your dealer for Grayling made butter. Also ask for Grayling made ice cream—IXL brand. You may buy this at the creamery or at the following places: Shoppenagon Inn, Cody Hotel, LaMotte, Kesseler and H. Hanson lunch rooms. This is the purest cream sold in Grayling, says Mr. McDonnell.

at a very slight touch. Large triggers are better than small ones.

In trapping, as in poisoning, the kinds baits are of great importance. It is best to give the rat a choice of food.

To get best results from trapping, use rolled oats, fried bacon, bread, and toasted cheese. Baits that easily stick to the trigger; like fried bacon, raw or cooked meat, fish, nut meats, cheese, apples or carrots are best.

Where to Set Traps. Best place to set traps is close to walls, behind things, in dark corners—anywhere that a rat in trying to hide would run.

Traps should be so set that the rat, in following its natural course, will pass right over the trigger.

On ground, sink trap slightly below ground level, and place small pieces of cloth or paper over trigger, and cover whole thing lightly with fine earth or sawdust.

On hard floors, bury trap in shallow pan of meal, sawdust or grain.

New Use for Your Auto. The exhaust from an automobile, tractor, or other gasoline engine can be directed into a rat hole by a piece of hose.

Adjust carburetor to give a rich mixture. Let engine run at moderate speed ten minutes or more.

Naphthalene Flakes. In seed warehouses and granaries where sacked grain is stored temporarily, or otherwise, it has been found that a liberal supply of Flaked Naphthalene, scattered on floor, about stacked grain and over bags, will keep rats away.

Rat-Proof Cement. Build rat-proof, of cement, as much as possible.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—I REMEMBER.

Eggs were ten cents a dozen, milk was five cents a quart; the butcher gave the liver away, the hired girl received a dollar a week and did the washing. Women did not powder and paint (in public), play poker or shake the shimmie, and they were taught to cook at the age of three.

Men wore whiskers and boots; chewed tobacco; spit on the sidewalks; and cussed. Laborers worked ten hours a day and never went on strike. No tips were given to waiters and the Hat-Check-Grafter was unknown.

No one was ever operated on for appendicitis; microbes were unheard of; folks lived to a good old age, and every year walked miles to wish their friends a Merry Christmas.

Today—You Know.

Everybody rides in automobiles (or Fords); plays the piano with his feet; go to see Charlie Chaplin; smokes cigarettes; drinks hair tonic; blames the H. C. L. on the Democrats; never goes to bed the same day he gets up; and thinks he's having a Heck of a time.

These are the days of Suffragetteing, Protesting, Prohibition; and life is worth living.

POTATOES FOR SALE.

Some good old potatoes, better than new ones. If ten or more bushels are wanted will deliver; if less, come and get them. Andrew Mortenson, Route 1, Grayling, Mich.

Opportunity knocks but once—people are not so considerate.

CHEMICAL PLANT TO BE DISMANTLED.

H. Helber of the firm of Helber & Clinkofstine, junk dealers of Bay City, was in the city first of the week and purchased the turpentine plant located near the du Pont plant, that was owned by the Grayling Wood Products company. Mr. Helber says that some of the equipment may be resold but the large portion will be put into scrap metal. The building material consisting of wood, brick and steel will be offered for sale.

This plant was instituted in the year 1912. It was capitalized for $50,000. It was originally intended for the manufacture of wood alcohol, acetates, charcoal, wood oils, tar etc. The plant was installed by L. K. Harris of Detroit, and, altho some of these products were manufactured, there seemed to be no market for them at that time and after a brief duration of operation the plant was closed down and has never again been operated. Efforts have been made to get the establishment in operation again but failed. That seems to have been the fate of just about every turpentine plant that has been started in Michigan. This one started out with glowing prospects and with strong indications of success. There was no trouble to make the products but to make them at a cost that would enable their sale at a profit seemed to be the big problem.

It pays to keep machines in repair—and that you keep your body in repair, too.

Men Wanted

DuPONT CO.
Grayling, Mich.

Announcement

This is to announce that I have purchased the Grayling Dairy Products Market from Mr. James McDonnell, and will continue to operate same along the same lines as before.

We desire your patronage and in return will give the best service possible.

Place your order here for—

Fresh Butter
Delicious Ice Cream
Milk and Cream
Buttermilk
Cottage Cheese, Etc.

Grayling Dairy Products Market.
HENRY W. KLEIN, Prop'r.

For Sale

Wood and Steel Buildings and Brick

—of the Turpentine Plant (near duPont's)

Inquire of

H. HELPER

At Shoppenagon Inn—Grayling

MEN WANTED

Rough
Carpenters and Laborers at once
at Camp Grayling

Apply

H. Baumgras, Supt.

LEROY PEARSON,
Quartermaster General

Studebaker Light-Six
Touring Car
$975

We Want to Talk to Every Prospect Who Plans to Pay More Than $500 for a Car

We want to tell you something about the Studebaker Light-Six Touring Car. Want you to examine it—and to drive it.

Stop in and let us prove what a vast difference there is between the Light-Six and other cars at about the same price—or between the Light-Six and cars of other makes costing several hundred dollars more.

To be able to buy a Six, practically free from vibration, for less than $1,000 is an opportunity not duplicated anywhere in the world. Elimination of vibration adds immeasurably to the life of the motor. It is one of the reasons for the universal high resale value of the Light-Six.

The Touring Car body is all-steel—even to its framework. Seat cushions—of genuine leather—are ten inches deep and are placed at the most restful angle.

The one-piece windshield is handsome and practical because it gives unobstructed view of the road ahead and is rain-proof. The quick-action cowl ventilator and the parking lights are but indications of the quality and completeness of the appointments.

No other make of car ever built, by anyone, at any price, represents so great a dollar-for-dollar value as the Light-Six Touring Car. The savings resulting from large volume, complete manufacture and the fact that Studebaker's overhead is shared by three distinct models make possible its low price and high value.

The Light-Six upholds Studebaker's 71-year reputation for honest value.

Power to satisfy the most exacting owner

MODELS AND PRICES—f.o.b. factory
LIGHT-SIX 5-Pass., 119" W. B. 40 H. P.	SPECIAL-SIX 5-Pass., 119" W. B. 50 H. P.	BIG-SIX 7-Pass., 126" W. B. 60 H. P.
Touring.....$995	Touring.....$1250	Touring.....$1700
Roadster (3-Pass.) 975	Roadster (2-Pass.) 1225	Speedster (5-Pass.) 1850
Coupe-Rd. (2-Pass.) 1225	Coupe (5-Pass.) 1975	Coupe (5-Pass.) 2550
Sedan.....1550	Sedan.....2050	Sedan.....2750

Terms to Meet Your Convenience

STUDEBAKER

Harry E. Simpson, Dealer for Crawford and Roscommon Counties

THIS IS A STUDEBAKER YEAR

Why waste any more time longing for the pleasures you can get out of a Ford Car? Start now to make the Touring Car or any other type you may select, your own.

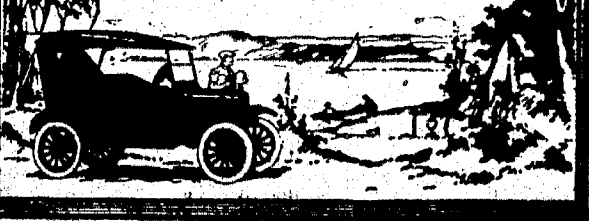

Soon you will have it to drive anywhere you want to go—camping—visiting—picnicking—or to your work.

Under the terms of the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan you can enroll for as little as $5.

We will deposit your payments in a local bank at interest. You can add a little every week. Soon the payments plus the interest, will make the car yours.

You will be surprised how little time it really takes to get a Ford after you make the start. Don't put it off—Enroll today. Come in and let us give you full particulars.

BANK OF GRAYLING OR
George Burke,
Ford Dealer
GRAYLING, MICH.

MRS. HICKEY SO WEAK COULD HARDLY STAND

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health

Worcester, Mass. — "I had some trouble caused by a female weakness and got so run-down and weak from it that I could hardly stand or walk across the floor. The doctor gave me all kinds of pills, but nothing helped me. I happened to meet a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I thought I would try it. After taking it a week I began to improve, and now I feel fine and am doing all of my housework, including washing, sewing and house cleaning. I have recommended your medicine to my friends, and I am willing for you to use this letter as a testimonial, as I would like to help any one suffering the way I did from such a weakness." — Mrs. DELIA HICKEY, 4 S. Ludlow St., Worcester, Mass.

VICTIMS RESCUED

Kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles are most dangerous because of their insidious attacks. Heed the first warning they give that they need attention by taking

LATHROP'S GOLD MEDAL CAPSULES

The world's standard remedy for these disorders, will often ward off these diseases and strengthen the body against further attacks. Threes, sixes, and dozens. Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation.

Dr. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy

for the cure of Asthma and Hay Fever. Ask your druggist for it. 25 cents and one dollar. Write for FREE SAMPLE. Northrop & Lyman Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.

ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE FOR THE FEET

Sprinkle one or two Allen's Foot-Ease powders in the Foot-Bath and soak and rub the feet. It takes the sting out of Corns and Bunions and Smarting, Aching feet. Then for lasting comfort, shake Allen's Foot-Ease into your shoes. It takes the friction from the shoe, rests the feet and makes walking a delight. Always use it for dancing parties and to break in new shoes. Over One Million Five Hundred Thousand pounds of Powder for the Feet were used by our Army and Navy during the war. Trial packages and a Foot-Ease Walking Foot sent post free. Address Allen's Foot-Ease, Le Roy, N. Y.

Slightly Insinuating. Mrs. Muggs had the reputation among tradesmen of quibbling over the fraction of a cent, and she was living up to it in her argument with the ice man. "Is that all the ice I get for ten cents?" she demanded peevishly. "Don't worry, lady," he replied as patiently as possible. "Some day you might be in a place where you couldn't buy this piece for a million dollars." — American Legion Weekly.

Hard to Locate. "Borrowing from Peter to pay Paul is bad business." "It is for me, I have such a hard time finding Peter."

Low fares Pacific Coast

When you go West travel in solid comfort through The Canadian Pacific Rockies—"50 Switzerlands in One."

"The Mountaineer" A brand new through train leaving Chicago every day at 9:45 p. m. creates new conceptions of travel pleasure.

Liberal Stopovers allowed at famous beauty spots in the mountains—Bentley Springs Hotel, Chequamegon Lake House, Emerald Lake Chalet, Glacier House and many other delectable resorts, cities and beautiful scenery.

For tickets, reservations and full particulars apply to

Canadian Pacific G. G. McKay, General Agent 1238 Griswold St., Detroit. Phone Main 5142

SHINOLA

AMERICA'S HOME SHOE POLISH Black - Tan - White - Ox-Blood - Brown SHINOLA is made of the finest wax and oils. It softens and preserves leather. Makes shoes wear longer and look better. SHINOLA is quickly and easily applied - shines in a jiffy. Keeps shoes trim and tidy. SHINOLA Home Set makes the home care of shoes easy. "The Shine for Mine"

Abe's Best Joke. Abe requests us to reprint his best joke, about the monkey in the restaurant that grabbed his half-dollar and swallowed it. "It made me so durned mad," said Abe "that I picked the monkey up by the hind legs and shook him good, and before I got through I shook $2.95 change out of him." — Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Cuticura Soothes Itching Scalp. On retiring gently rub spots of dandruff and itching with Cuticura Ointment. Next morning shampoo with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Make them your everyday toilet preparations and have a clear skin and soft, white hands. — Advertisement.

Illuminated Gloves. A novel illuminated gauntlet glove, for motorists and traffic controllers has been invented. On the back of the glove are two electric lamps one red, the other white. The red light is used by motorists when turning or stopping, and the white light is used for inspection, reading signposts, or maps. The battery is carried in a small pocket on the outside of the gauntlet. On the inside of the thumb and two fingers are small metal contact points, and to light the lamps, one simply closes the finger on the thumb.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased. Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper. — Advertisement.

Pertinent Query. A youthful history instructor at the Midway (according to the Maroon) got quite disgusted the other day at his class of dumb belles and spoke out in exasperated scorn: "If you were all a little younger, or I were a little older, I would take you on my knees." "Which way?" interrupted the pretty blonde in the front row. — Chicago Post.

Aspirin

Say "Bayer" and Insist!

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting the genuine Bayer product prescribed by physicians over twenty-two years and proved safe for millions for Colds Headache Toothache Lumbago Earache Rheumatism Neuralgia Pain, Pain. Accept "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" only. Each unbroken package contains proper directions. Handy boxes of twelve tablets cost few cents. Drug-gists also sell bottles of 24 and 100. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocetate of Salicylic Acid. — Advertisement.

A Road Mope. "Yes, my auto turned turtle." "Well, that wasn't much of a change; it was tortoise before."

Let the experience come first, then offer the advice.

WHY YOU ARE WHAT YOU ARE

By EDNA PURDY WALSH

WHY ALL THE LAUGHS?

The mirthful fun lover cannot help his laughs, and the pleasant little wrinkle around his eyes and face which turn upwards. The source of them is mirthfulness, located in the forehead above the outer white of the eye.

Mirthfulness brings an appreciation of humor, and leads to the paths taken by Larry Semon, Eddie Lyons and Harold Lloyd. When you see them next, look for development of the forehead at these points. You will surely find it abundant.

The external angles of the face grow tiny lines from mirthfulness. There are horizontal lines on the nose, at the angles of the eyes and at the corners of the mouth.

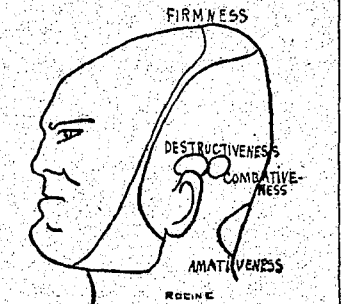

His eyes look pleasing or mirthful, and in a man who laughs a great deal, there will be curved lines, even in his cheeks.

Well-developed mirthfulness takes one through many difficulties easily. It takes one to the newsstands to buy comic stories. Mirthfulness is always memorizing these stories, and telling them to others. Love of mischief also springs from this faculty, and when it is well developed the individual always has a history of playing pranks on others at school, especially when "veneration in the upper head" at the "tonnelle" is not large. No clown, wit, humorist or comedian ever lived without mirthfulness.

WHAT MAKES A SUCCESSFUL PUGILIST?

Would you place this man in the Art Institute as a judge of pictures? Would you place him in the Epworth League?

When the faculties of firmness, destructiveness, combativeness, amateness, and vivacity are in the lead in a head, they build a jaw of this shape. The individual is in complete harmony in a fighting ring. He will be fond of baseball, football, boxing and athletics as well, though great mental development, if it exists, makes these a hobby instead of a profession.

Just how much time he will devote to these occupations depends on the rest of his head development. If his intellectual interests are not wide, and his forehead is low, with more of his head below the ears than above it, he will be found at all times in pugilism.

Given, however, a high degree of benevolence, high ideals, and a little intuition, all the fighting instinct would then be directed toward accomplishing good. This situation, so ideal, is not, however, often seen. The soul with the higher faculties developed is not as a rule sufficiently developed in the regions of combativeness and firmness to swing his ideals with pugilistic strength. And the man with a preponderance of destructiveness and firmness lacks the more benevolent qualities.

HOW TO RECOGNIZE JEALOUSY BEFORE IT HURTS YOU

Jealousy is not a faculty that can in itself be located on the head. It is a "by-product" of selfishness and approbation, and is seen in various contours of the entire body.

Extreme jealousy is first recognized by a projection of the muscle under the lower lip.

A neck very large at the base of the brain—amateness—is its side partner.

Old Dog Chivalry

Charles Glaser, Detroit restaurateur, returned a few days ago from an automobile trip, on which he visited Baltimore, Washington and other points. "At one place in the road," he relates, "we saw a house cat in front of a house. We slowed down to save the cat, but before we got to her a collie rushed from the yard, picked the cat up in his teeth by the nape of her neck and dragged her to Entirely in harmony with the projecting muscle of the lower lip is an ear, the bottom of which is much larger than the top. The mouth is closely shut, though the lips may be thick, yet the red part does not show very much.

A thickness of the nose just above the little wings, and a tendency of the nose to turn down are also indications of selfishness. In keeping with these signs is a heavy, coarse lower jaw.

A closely shut, thick-lidded eye, with its upper lid pressing down so that it makes a nearly horizontal line across the ball, also means secretiveness and selfishness.

The head that is very broad from ear to ear, full at the base, built on the principle of the cat's head, carries with it many selfish tendencies of the fireside sphinx.

THE BEAUTIFUL FACULTY—BENEVOLENCE

It is easy to recognize the sympathetic and helpful soul. He or she will have benevolence well developed in face, head and mannerisms.

One or more long, deep, regular, straight, unbroken lines running horizontally across the forehead when the eyes are raised, are the strongest indications of benevolence. The lips will be full and generous, especially the upper lip.

When the benevolent individual talks to anyone he looks straight forward and leans his head toward the one he is talking to. He even bends his body slightly toward the object of his sympathy. His upper forehead is large. He has great tolerance for the weakness and wickedness, faults and defects of other people.

Benevolence is the most Christlike of the faculties, and when with it, a strong will is seen at the top of the head above the ear, its possessor will be a fighter for the unprotected and needy. He devotes himself to all sorts of plans and charitable movements, and unless he holds a check on himself he may go into partnership too quickly for his own good. He often neglects himself for other people, and in his first ardor gives them sometimes too much help for their own good.

BRAIN, BRAIN, WHO'S GOT HIS BRAIN?

There are many of us whose foreheads are well developed, and sometimes overdeveloped, who do not use intelligence in daily life because other faculties of vitality, will, or intuition are low. But when the forehead is lacking as in this case, there is no hope of any faculty being used intelligently.

Oftentimes one sees a head with the forehead sloping straight back, similar to this one. The observing faculties at the eyebrows may be well developed, and will therefore enable the possessor to go through life fairly successfully, but he is lacking in the element of reason, higher up on the forehead. He will not be able to learn from books—only from the daily routine of life. Intellectually and logically, he is an idiot.

Benevolence and reason both are lacking in the forehead that slopes backward at such an angle as this one. Its owner will not be found doing the unselfish or charitable deed. He makes a better dancer at the public rink than he does a father. When you look to him he will be more interested in the label of your shirt collar than he will be in you, if he has any social inclinations at all.

Drake Bitter Enemy of Spain.

In the days of her grandeur Spain had no bitter enemy than Sir Francis Drake, the fearless sea rover who, through his exploits, became one of the most famous of Queen Elizabeth's admirals. Drake was the first sailor of his nation to circumnavigate the globe—a feat that Magellan and Sebastian del Cano had accomplished 58 years before. Such was his hatred of the Spanish that he was wont to say: "Whether there be peace or war between Spain and England, there will always be war between Drake and the supporters of the Inquisition." Drake never forgave the defeat that he experienced at the hands of the Spaniards at San-Juan-de-Ulloa in 1598, when he was the very youthful captain of the Judith, a defeat that involved the loss of all that he possessed.

National Brand of Butter. There is a growing belief among leading dairymen that a real demand for a national brand of butter can be developed.

Care for Cream on Farm.

Cream should be properly cared for on the farm. It should be turned every day and should be sent to market frequently.

In determining the calf, caustic potash is used when the calf is from three to five days old.

DAIRY FACTS

Dairy Animals Help in Country's Meat Supply

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

About 17 per cent of the matured dairy animals in this country find their way to the slaughter and packing plants, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. If this percentage is applied to the number of matured dairy animals reported on farms by the last census, and the average live weights and dressing yields are used in calculating the beef production, the result shows about 1,502,500,000 pounds of carcass beef produced from dairy cattle during the year 1920. This quantity represents more than 23 per cent of the total beef production of the United States for that year. Probably 80 per cent of all the calves slaughtered are of dairy breeding. If this percentage is applied to the total number of calves slaughtered in 1920 and the resulting figure multiplied by the average live weight and dressing yields, the amount of beef produced by dairy calves is about 500,647,000 pounds for the year 1920.

The principal conditions which cause dairy cows to be discarded for milk production purposes are old age; disease, physical defects, low milk yield, and sterility. Many old dairy cows and others that are unprofitable as milk producers are fattened for a short period and then sold for beef. When properly fed such cows make rapid gains, although the tendency is to accumulate fat externally and in the body cavities rather than to produce a well-marbled flesh. About 85 per cent of the cow carcasses are graded as common or lower, and the meat is used largely in the preparation of sausage and canned meat.

Bulls that are no longer desired in the herd for various reasons make up a part of the meat from dairy cattle. They are seldom suitable for dressed beef, a large proportion of the rounds being used for dried or smoked beef and the remaining portions of the carcasses for sausage.

While the quality of beef produced from mature cows and bulls is of lower grade, that is not necessarily true with respect to the yield obtained from dairy calves. Probably 95 per cent of the male and 50 per cent of the female dairy calves are slaughtered as calves. Most of these animals, if properly handled and slaughtered while young, produce a high grade of veal.

Comfort in Hot Weather Necessary for Dairy Cows

During the hot summer months many high producing cows are prevented from giving their normal supply of milk by carelessness of their owner in not supplying some one of the many necessary comforts for hot weather milk and butterfat production.

One of the most common of these is the furnishing of drinking water.

A cow in milk requires about 100 pounds, or 12.5 gallons, of water daily, and heavy producing cows frequently double this amount. During hot weather a cow must have the normal supply of water and an added amount necessary for adjusting her supply from normal to hot weather needs.

The question of how often cows should be watered, when they are not kept with a constant supply before them, varies with the condition of the weather, kind of feed, etc. It is safe to say, however, that cows in milk should have water at least three times a day.

Profitable Cow Ought to Produce Much Milk

It is pointed out by successful dairymen that to be profitable a cow ought to produce at least 5,000 pounds of milk in a year. In producing this quantity of milk, her butterfat would amount to about 200 pounds. In addition to the sale of butterfat, the skimmed milk, the manure, and the calf must be reckoned as of value.

Daily Water Supply Is of Greatest Importance

Cows which produce 25 pounds of milk a day require 75 pounds or more of water daily, and instances are on record in which heavy milkers have consumed more than 300 pounds of water a day. A gallon of water weighs eight pounds.

Young Calves Should Be Fed Good Grain Ration

Young calves should be fed grain as soon as they will eat it. Ground oats, corn chop and wheat bran, mixed in equal proportions, constitute a good grain ration. Feed twice daily all calf will clean up, remembering also that calves must have plenty of milk.

Value of Soy Beans. Regarding the value of soy beans for milk cows, the Iowa station says that soy beans are worth $60 a ton when oil meal is worth $45.

High Quality Butter.

High quality butter is in the greatest demand and it is natural that creamery men should be willing to pay more for the better grades of cream.

A good cow will always give good returns for feed consumed as long as she is fed judiciously.

The Double Robbery.

The Punxville grocery store had been broken into and robbed. "It was the work of local thieves, home talent," announced the sheriff, after sleuthing the place over thoroughly. The grocer beamed.

"Well, then," he said, "I got no grudge."

"That's neighborly, but why?" "Oh, ain't so much neighborliness. I guess we're even. Chances are I've been sellin' the guilty parties their groceries." — American Legion Weekly.

The American Legion

(Copy for This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service.)

HIS IDENTITY IS IN DOUBT

Soldier Patient in Toledo (Ohio) Hospital May Be Martin Lyons or Bert Jordan.

Is Martin Lyons, a patient in the Toledo (O.) hospital for the insane, a soldier of the United States army prior to 1917, or is he the man whose identity he has at times claimed—Bert Jordan, a World War veteran?

This is the question which has puzzled authorities of the American Legion and other agencies for the relief of the ex-service man since the man was found wandering about the streets of Toledo two years ago.

As Lyons, he has been identified by the War department as having served in the army in 1913. Finger prints added in the establishment of this identification.

When discovered in Toledo he gave the authorities the name of Bert Jordan, said by War department officials to have been an officer of the World War. Cards and letters in the man's clothing bore this name. Since then he has become paralyzed and lost use of voice and hands, but has indicated that his correct name was Martin Lyons. He once claimed California as his home state and when found carried a photograph of a Salt Lake City (Utah) restaurant in his pocket.

Through the agency of the Red Cross it has been determined that such a man was a patient in a Stockton (Calif.) hospital, but was discharged or escaped. He is then thought to have enlisted in the United States army at Alameda, Calif., in 1915, but was dropped two months later as "mentally deficient."

He is now hopelessly bedridden, due to the paralytic affliction, and is in the Toledo institution, the ward of the women of the American Legion Auxiliary, who believe that he is a World War veteran. The injury which caused his illness is due to a depression of the left side of the skull, but his arm from wrist to elbow shows signs of skin grafting. The man claims this resulted from service in France.

About six feet in height, the man is of splendid physique, weighing in the neighborhood of 160 pounds. He has sandy hair, blue eyes and strong, refined features. When found he was thirty-three years of age, and indicated since that he has two brothers and two sisters. Any information as to the man's identity or as to his family should be sent to Mrs. P. C. Conrad, 1207 East Broadway, Toledo, O., chairman of the hospital committee of the Ohio department of the American Legion Auxiliary.

TO PREVENT AIRPLANE FIRES

John Goss and Others of Committee on Aeronautics Invent Fireproof Gasoline Tank.

Having lost his right leg and suffered severe injuries caused by a burning airplane in the World War, John Henry Goss of Washington, D. C., a member of the American Legion's national committee on aeronautics, with other aviators, who had received similar injuries, set to work to devise a system to eliminate for others the dangers that caused their own injuries.

The result was the invention of a fireproof gasoline tank, containing a fire-resisting chemical which extinguishes any fire that may start from a leak in the gasoline tank system. Another flask containing acid is installed over the engine of the airplane. This flask releases its acid as soon as a certain temperature has been reached. The invention is built in much the same manner as a thermos flask is constructed.

Mr. Goss entered the service at Fort Myer, Virginia. He served for a time in a battery of field artillery until he obtained a transfer to the aviation service. He received training with the Canadian Royal Flying Corps at Toronto, and completed his course at Hicks, Tex. Commissioned a first lieutenant, he went overseas with the Twenty-second aero squadron. Later he was detached for service with the British Royal Flying Corps. It was while he was with the British that he suffered the accident.

Flying at an altitude of between 500 and 600 feet, a sheet of flame shot from underneath the front gasoline tank of his plane. Lieutenant Goss immediately put the machine into a sideslip to put the flames out, and also to make a landing. The plane crashed on one wing and the pilot was pinned in the burning wreckage. Struggling to get free from the blazing plane, he broke both legs in the attempt. Meanwhile the fire was burning around his legs and body. Eventually, comrades, risking their lives, succeeded in pulling the lieutenant from the plane. What was left of his right leg had to be amputated.

"My one thought during the 19 months I was in the hospital was to find a fire-prevention equipment that would save other flyers from my own experiences," Lieutenant Goss stated. An organizer of the American Legion post at Bristol, Va., Lieutenant Goss has been connected with the ex-service organization since the early days of its existence.

Summer Find You Miserable?

It's hard to do one's work when every day brings morning lameness, aching backache, and a dull, tired feeling. If you suffer thus, why not find out the cause? Likely it's your kidneys. Headaches, dizziness and bladder irregularities may give further proof that your kidneys need help. Don't risk neglect! Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands have been helped by Doan's. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

A Michigan Case

Wm. L. Hubble, E. St. Louis, Mich., says: "I had no control over the movements of the kidneys. I had severe pain across my back and it put me past going for several days. I had known of Doan's who had been benefited by Doan's Kidney Pills so I began using them. I used Doan's until the trouble left me entirely." Get Doan's at Any Store, 60c a Box. DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS. FOSTER-MILBURN CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

He found it in Valparaiso

Then he headed north and found it up near the "jumping-off place"

No matter what part of the world you may find yourself in, few things make you feel more at home than to walk into a store and discover your favorite smoking tobacco for sale.

You get a great thrill from seeing your home newspaper in a strange land and an even greater thrill on meeting someone from the old home town. But tobacco certainly comes next in the order of importance in away-from-home thrills.

With your favorite tobacco in your favorite pipe, life is worth living in almost any corner of the globe.

This thought was inspired by the following interesting letter from Mr. W. E. Bromley, an Edgeworth smoker from Port Wayne, Ind.:

Larus & Brother Co., Richmond, Va. Gentlemen:

In some of your advertisements from time to time I have noticed letters from different users of Edgeworth Smoking Tobacco and I wondered if anyone ever had a more varied experience than I have had.

When in Valparaiso, South America, I could get it; and when I was as far north as a man could get without going to the "jumping-off place," I could get Edgeworth Ready-Rubbed.

I have an old briar that I have had for ten years and it never had a crumb of any but Edgeworth tobacco in it.

If that isn't going some, "you talk me."

Yours truly, (Signed) W. E. Bromley.

If Mr. Bromley makes frequent skips from continent to continent, his record of keeping all tobacco but Edgeworth out of his briar is indeed noteworthy.

Although Edgeworth does reach the far corners of the earth, there must be times when the supply runs low in Zanabazar and other remote districts.

But as a rule Edgeworth smokers, wherever they are, generally manage to find a way to get Edgeworth, for they don't feel as if they are really smoking unless the tobacco comes from a little blue can.

If you are not an Edgeworth smoker but would like an opportunity to find out if you want to be one, send your name and address to Larus & Brother Company, 78 South 21st Street, Richmond, Va.

You will receive almost immediately free samples of both Edgeworth Plug Slice and Ready-Rubbed. Then you can judge for yourself what you think about this tobacco that so many smokers claim gives complete pipe-satisfaction.

If you will include the name and address of your regular tobacco dealer with your request for the free samples, your courtesy will be appreciated.

To Retail Tobacco Merchants: If your jobber cannot supply you with Edgeworth, Larus Brother Company will gladly send you prepaid by parcel post a one- or two-dozen carton of any size of Edgeworth Plug Slice or Ready-Rubbed for the same price you would pay the jobber.

Fashion in Clocks.

Not so long ago the bride was apt to receive ten or twelve clocks among her wedding presents. These were of the large kind, adapted to the "parlor" mantle. People needed clocks more in those days than they do now in this day of wrist watches, yet clocks are still needed, but most of them are small and practically noiseless. Such clocks fill a real need on the dressing table, or a desk. The simpler ones are always in demand in the kitchen.

Eliminate Vibration.

Vibration transmitted to the hands of users of pneumatic hammers are eliminated in a new tool in which hammering and driving members are automatically disconnected as blows are struck.

Bird Case.

Miss Catt—Matrimony must have gone to her head.

Miss Nipp—Without a doubt. She's still living with her husband.

Summer Find You Miserable?

Rimrock Trail

By J. ALLAN DUNN
Author of "A Man to His Mate," etc.

Copyright, 1922, by J. Allan Dunn

CHAPTER XIX.—Continued.

Molly cast an involuntary glance at the opening door, watched it close after the pair of blackguards and braced herself. The issue was at hand.

Pilmsoll slid a bolt on the door, brought over one of the makeshift chairs and placed it in front of Molly, seating himself. His alcohol-laden breath reached her nauseatingly and she turned her head aside. As if a trigger had been released Pilmsoll's face became inflamed with a passionate fury.

"D—n you!" he said. "Don't you turn your head away from me. I'll train you to better manners before I'm through with you. You'll be jumping to do what you think I want you to before long. You'll be begging me for favors. You may think you're too good for me now. You won't presently."

She saw that she had gone too far in her disdain; that she must try to leash the devil that had broken loose in his brain.

"Just what do you want?" she asked, and her voice seemed not to belong to her as she uttered the words that showed no tremor.

"You! Not for love, my beauty! Because you are good to look at—yes. But I'll take my time. I'll slip at the dish, my dear. I've got a big score to settle and I'll do it properly. We'll go over some of the items."

He got up and emptied a bottle that still held a generous measure. He staggered slightly and fumbled the chair as he sat down again. Molly watched him intently. If only he got sufficiently drunk. Before the next came back. Perhaps she could get his own gun? Pilmsoll held a familiar finger on her knee and instantly twitching showed in her eyes. He laughed.

"Using that busy little brain of yours, eh? Figurin' I'll get drunk. Nothin' doin', my dear. I made that booze and I know just how it treats me, sub? Now, then."

"Your guardian angel Sandy chided me out of my share in the Molly mine belongin' to me 'count of grubstakin' your father."

"That's a lie."

"That's easy to say when it nets you a fortune. Easy to go back on a dead man's agreement. Four-fushin' Sandy Bourke . . ."

Molly suddenly slipped back into the primitive. Something seemed to click and the refinement she had learned and used so far felt like a cloak that is dropped for freedom in battle. With the malignancy of Sandy and her father she was Molly Casey, daughter of a desert rat, once more.

"That's another d—n lie," she said. "Haven't forgotten how to swear, have you?"

"I've heard how Sandy Bourke chased your rotten-hearted jumpers out off the claim and gave you until sunup to sneak out of town. I've heard how you were afraid to look at him through the smoke but went galloping off while the whole camp laughed at you. Sandy a four-fushin'! A coyote'll fight when it's cornered, but you . . ."

Pilmsoll grew slowly livid. "Heard all about it, did you?" he said slowly. "Then you know some of the score. And I can wipe off what I owe Sandy Bourke through you. And there are more items. There was the first time we met. I haven't forgotten that. There was the kiss you said you tried to bite out after you'd burned the doll I gave you. You told about that the next time I kissed you in the hammock at Three Star. You tried to rub out that kiss, too. Maybe the next ones will stay put."

"That was the time Mormon man-handled you." She saw the blue snakes crawl on his purpling skin, and she kept her eyes on them, though her mental vision was on the holster beneath his vest. She deliberately taunted him to provoke him to an uncalculated move. Molly knew her own liltiness, her strength. If she could get inside his arms, if even to endure a moment of his beastly embrace, and could get a grip on the gun?

But there was something in Pilmsoll that delighted in playing with a victim he felt sure of. It soothed his broken vanity.

"So," he said, "I'm going to get even with Sandy and with Mormon and that bow-legged fool Sam Manning, who call you the Mascot of the Three Star, all at once; while I get even with you. And get what should have been mine at the same time. We'll have you tucked away while we mail the letter that will bring your ransom. Never mind the details of handling the money. I'll attend to that. But we'll bleed you dry. The price of all your stock and that of the three suckers at the Three Star at par—and all they can borrow on the ranch—that will be the price for you, my lady. With three days to deliver in."

"You talk like a crazy man," or a drunken one. If you lay a finger on me they'll trail you to hell, Jim Pilmsoll, and the devil himself won't stop them from skinning you alive."

Pilmsoll shrugged his shoulders, but his eyes flickered and for a second his cowardly soul shrank.

"I'll look out for that," he said. "If you are delivered back to them as damaged goods they'll never know it till you tell them. Maybe you won't be over-anxious to do that." His eyes grew moody, his manner sullen. He was passing into another alcoholic phase. Molly sensed imminent danger.

"I'll take those kisses now," he cried, and lunged for her, catching her about the waist as she rose from the chair. "And more to boot," he added thickly as he drew her to him, one hand at the back of her head, fingers twining in her hair, twisting her face forward, upward. She had both arms inside of his, her hands on his chest. With all her strength she strained and pushed away, her right hand slid up to the holster, groping.

The gun was not there. Pilmsoll had refolded it during the meal and left it on the table. His breath sickened her. She got her arm clear and struck him viciously on the mouth, breaking the lips against his teeth.

Fighting like a cave-woman, she scored his cheek with nails that dug deep from the corner of his eyelid and brought the blood. As he shifted his hold she wrenched loose, leaving strands of brown hair in his fingers, and jumped for the door. In her spring she saw, too late, the pistol on the table. She drew the bolt, half opening the door before he caught her and dragged her back again.

"You wildcat," he panted. "I'll fix you."

Like a panther Molly fought, matching her young muscles against his, striking, clawing, biting. Her riding coat ripped, the neck of her waist was torn away. Maddened at her resistance, he struck back. Once he got her about the throat, but her fingers were at his face, tearing at his eyes and he had to beat her off.

The girl fought with all the sublimated despair of attacked womanhood, the man like a gorilla. The struggle was unequal, with more than forty pounds in favor of Pilmsoll, though if Molly had possessed the plainest of weapons, she might have won. He held her at last, close to him, one arm wrapped about her, his right hand forcing the heel of the palm under her tucked-in chin, slowly, inexorably forcing it back, while his bleeding, distorted face lowered. This time her arms were locked in, bent double, useless. Her kicks were futile; she had only her teeth left and she was going to try those. But she knew her strength sapped, knew in another moment or two she would be at the mercy of this brute who did not know the meaning of the word.

A shadow barred the half-open door, low down. A pointed head appeared with blazing eyes, with a neck-ruff flaring high. White teeth showed as red gums bared in hate, and, forgetting the wounded leg that had held him back, Grit hurled himself in a staggering but magnificent leap. He could not reach Pilmsoll's throat. He had lost much momentum through the damaged leg, he lacked power from loss of blood, but fury gave him strength for the spring that brought his teeth within reach of Pilmsoll's right wrist, exposed; the cuff half-way up the forearm. Grit's teeth slashed like chisels, ripping through flesh, tendon and artery, sending jets of blood spurting before Pilmsoll, with a yell of surprise and consternation, flung Molly into a corner, dazed and weak, and threw up his left forearm to guard against the dog's second leap.

It fell short. Pilmsoll's right hand, scattering blood, groped blindly for the gun on the table behind him. He found the barrel and brought the heavy butt down with a crash on Grit's head, back of the ear. The dog dropped like a length of chain. Pilmsoll kicked the body viciously, taking the handanna from his neck and tying it tight about his wrist, fastening the knots with his teeth. With a look at Molly, crumpled unconscious in the corner, he sought for more liquor, found it and poured himself a big jorum, gulping it down while the blood dripped heavily from the bandage. He was soggy with shock and fatigue, the strong stuff half paralyzed his faculties and he dropped into a chair, gazing stupidly at his wrist.

His imagination was a curse to him. He had seen Grit's slavering jaws as they rose in the leap, the crimson glare in his eyes. To all intents the dog was mad. It had been lying wounded in the sun. Only madness could have given it strength to track so far. What if it meant lockjaw—hydrophobia.

Water—that was the test! There was water that Cookie had brought in for coffee, half a bucket, by the stove. He felt a sudden repugnance toward it. The slashed veins in his wrists burned and throbbled as if they were oozing molten lead instead of blood. And he was growing weak. If he didn't get a tourniquet fixed he might bleed to death. But what was the use?

Grit, who had opened a way out for Molly, lay still beneath the table. Molly, overtaken, was in a swoon. Pilmsoll sat in a stupor. The door swung wide. Cookie rushed in, his face muddy with alarm.

"The show's gone wrong," he cried to Pilmsoll, who stared at him half-comprehending. "For Gawd's sake, what's happened here? Gimme a drink." He snatched at the bottle and swallowed from the neck. "Here, you need a swig. We got to get out of here, pronto. Have you scragged the gel?" He thrust the bottle at Pilmsoll, who drank, senses rallying by the urge of danger that emanated from the cook like the sweet stench of a frightened animal.

"Brandon's gang has come back," said Cookie. "It's the d—dest streak of luck. They must have fell in with Wyatt or some of his pals. They must have been to the ranch. They cut off the boys and the horses over by Sand creek! Reynolds got clear. He saw them comin' an' streaked it. They were shootin' like h—l, he said. Hahn an' Butch has gone up to the lookout to . . . Hear that?"

That was a single rifle-shot, followed by the others, the last almost as one.

"H—l!" cried Pilmsoll, "they've got us this end. It's Wyatt. Just my d—d luck for him to meet up with Brandon."

Cookie ran outside and Pilmsoll followed to the door, lethargy leaving him in the face of disaster, though he could not think fast or clearly. Hahn came clattering over the rocks on his horse, his face chalky white.

"Go get him a slug of whisky," Pilmsoll ordered Cookie.

But Cookie, his face twitching with fright, jumped for his own mount and went galloping down the valley to the south.

Pilmsoll sent curses after him, reaching for his own pistol before he remembered it was inside, gringing Hahn's half out of its holster and then quitting as the fleeing cook tangented and disappeared behind some timber.

The handkerchief about Pilmsoll's wounded wrist was now a sodden rag, but the loss of blood had cleared his brain. He set his left arm about Hahn and helped him into the cabin. Molly was stirring and Pilmsoll scowled blackly at her. He gave Hahn a drink.

"Brace up," he said; "what happened? I know about Reynolds. I mean at the lookout."

"We no more than made the lookout," said Hahn, "before six men came riding along, beelied for trouble. One of them was the black-bearded guy from California who was here with that Brandon, first time they came nosing around. And another was Wyatt. Wyatt was just starting to point 'em out the entrance when Butch lets him have it. Hits him smack in the forehead. Before he could show 'em the way in. He may have told 'em about it on the way up. But Blackbeard must have caught the shine of Butch's barrel. He fires back—they all had their rifles handy 'cross the pommel—the bullet goes plumb through the tree and knocks Butch down. Went through both hips. He falls against me and I show in the open, sliding on that d—d slippery boulder, sliding inside and out of range, but they got me."

"They'll be through any minute. Pilm. You can't tell how much Wyatt told 'em on the way up. They've got me. I can't ride. My lungs are filling up. Butch is paralyzed—if he ain't dead. A h—l of a wind-up! You can make it out the way Reynolds did. None of the gang that left with Wyatt knows about the side-trail by Spur rock. But you'd better beat it. Me, I've turned my last card. The case is empty!"

His head fell forward onto his arms. A trickle of scarlet came from the corner of his mouth. Pilmsoll looked at him calculatingly. Hahn could not ride. But he wouldn't die for a while. To leave him here where the raiders would find him might mean a confession wrung from him that would tell of the get-away trail by Spur rock and Nipple peaks. He shook Hahn by the sound shoulder.

"Brace up," he said. "You can hide in Split Rock cave. I'm going to put the girl in there. Take another drink. Pick up some grub. There's water in the cave. You can come out soon's the coast is clear."

"I'll not be coming out," said Hahn huskily. "But it's a good move." He might bleed to death. But what was the use?

Grit, who had opened a way out for Molly, lay still beneath the table. Molly, overtaken, was in a swoon. Pilmsoll sat in a stupor. The door swung wide. Cookie rushed in, his face muddy with alarm.

"The show's gone wrong," he cried to Pilmsoll, who stared at him half-comprehending. "For Gawd's sake, what's happened here? Gimme a drink." He snatched at the bottle and swallowed from the neck. "Here, you need a swig. We got to get out of here, pronto. Have you scragged the gel?" He thrust the bottle at Pilmsoll, who drank, senses rallying by the urge of danger that emanated from the cook like the sweet stench of a frightened animal.

"Brandon's gang has come back," said Cookie. "It's the d—dest streak of luck. They must have fell in with Wyatt or some of his pals. They must have been to the ranch. They cut off the boys and the horses over by Sand creek! Reynolds got clear. He saw them comin' an' streaked it. They were shootin' like h—l, he said. Hahn an' Butch has gone up to the lookout to . . . Hear that?"

That was a single rifle-shot, followed by the others, the last almost as one.

"H—l!" cried Pilmsoll, "they've got us this end. It's Wyatt. Just my d—d luck for him to meet up with Brandon."

Cookie ran outside and Pilmsoll followed to the door, lethargy leaving him in the face of disaster, though he could not think fast or clearly. Hahn came clattering over the rocks on his horse, his face chalky white.

"Go get him a slug of whisky," Pilmsoll ordered Cookie.

But Cookie, his face twitching with fright, jumped for his own mount and went galloping down the valley to the south.

Pilmsoll sent curses after him, reaching for his own pistol before he remembered it was inside, gringing Hahn's half out of its holster and then quitting as the fleeing cook tangented and disappeared behind some timber.

The handkerchief about Pilmsoll's wounded wrist was now a sodden rag, but the loss of blood had cleared his brain. He set his left arm about Hahn and helped him into the cabin. Molly was stirring and Pilmsoll scowled blackly at her. He gave Hahn a drink.

"Brace up," he said; "what happened? I know about Reynolds. I mean at the lookout."

"We no more than made the lookout," said Hahn, "before six men came riding along, beelied for trouble. One of them was the black-bearded guy from California who was here with that Brandon, first time they came nosing around. And another was Wyatt. Wyatt was just starting to point 'em out the entrance when Butch lets him have it. Hits him smack in the forehead. Before he could show 'em the way in. He may have told 'em about it on the way up. But Blackbeard must have caught the shine of Butch's barrel. He fires back—they all had their rifles handy 'cross the pommel—the bullet goes plumb through the tree and knocks Butch down. Went through both hips. He falls against me and I show in the open, sliding on that d—d slippery boulder, sliding inside and out of range, but they got me."

"They'll be through any minute. Pilm. You can't tell how much Wyatt told 'em on the way up. They've got me. I can't ride. My lungs are filling up. Butch is paralyzed—if he ain't dead. A h—l of a wind-up! You can make it out the way Reynolds did. None of the gang that left with Wyatt knows about the side-trail by Spur rock. But you'd better beat it. Me, I've turned my last card. The case is empty!"

His head fell forward onto his arms. A trickle of scarlet came from the corner of his mouth. Pilmsoll looked at him calculatingly. Hahn could not ride. But he wouldn't die for a while. To leave him here where the raiders would find him might mean a confession wrung from him that would tell of the get-away trail by Spur rock and Nipple peaks. He shook Hahn by the sound shoulder.

"Brace up," he said. "You can hide in Split Rock cave. I'm going to put the girl in there. Take another drink. Pick up some grub. There's water in the cave. You can come out soon's the coast is clear."

"I'll not be coming out," said Hahn huskily. "But it's a good move." He might bleed to death. But what was the use?

Grit, who had opened a way out for Molly, lay still beneath the table. Molly, overtaken, was in a swoon. Pilmsoll sat in a stupor. The door swung wide. Cookie rushed in, his face muddy with alarm.

"The show's gone wrong," he cried to Pilmsoll, who stared at him half-comprehending. "For Gawd's sake, what's happened here? Gimme a drink." He snatched at the bottle and swallowed from the neck. "Here, you need a swig. We got to get out of here, pronto. Have you scragged the gel?" He thrust the bottle at Pilmsoll, who drank, senses rallying by the urge of danger that emanated from the cook like the sweet stench of a frightened animal.

"Brandon's gang has come back," said Cookie. "It's the d—dest streak of luck. They must have fell in with Wyatt or some of his pals. They must have been to the ranch. They cut off the boys and the horses over by Sand creek! Reynolds got clear. He saw them comin' an' streaked it. They were shootin' like h—l, he said. Hahn an' Butch has gone up to the lookout to . . . Hear that?"

That was a single rifle-shot, followed by the others, the last almost as one.

"H—l!" cried Pilmsoll, "they've got us this end. It's Wyatt. Just my d—d luck for him to meet up with Brandon."

Cookie ran outside and Pilmsoll followed to the door, lethargy leaving him in the face of disaster, though he could not think fast or clearly. Hahn came clattering over the rocks on his horse, his face chalky white.

"Go get him a slug of whisky," Pilmsoll ordered Cookie.

But Cookie, his face twitching with fright, jumped for his own mount and went galloping down the valley to the south.

Pilmsoll sent curses after him, reaching for his own pistol before he remembered it was inside, gringing Hahn's half out of its holster and then quitting as the fleeing cook tangented and disappeared behind some timber.

The handkerchief about Pilmsoll's wounded wrist was now a sodden rag, but the loss of blood had cleared his brain. He set his left arm about Hahn and helped him into the cabin. Molly was stirring and Pilmsoll scowled blackly at her. He gave Hahn a drink.

"Brace up," he said; "what happened? I know about Reynolds. I mean at the lookout."

"We no more than made the lookout," said Hahn, "before six men came riding along, beelied for trouble. One of them was the black-bearded guy from California who was here with that Brandon, first time they came nosing around. And another was Wyatt. Wyatt was just starting to point 'em out the entrance when Butch lets him have it. Hits him smack in the forehead. Before he could show 'em the way in. He may have told 'em about it on the way up. But Blackbeard must have caught the shine of Butch's barrel. He fires back—they all had their rifles handy 'cross the pommel—the bullet goes plumb through the tree and knocks Butch down. Went through both hips. He falls against me and I show in the open, sliding on that d—d slippery boulder, sliding inside and out of range, but they got me."

"They'll be through any minute. Pilm. You can't tell how much Wyatt told 'em on the way up. They've got me. I can't ride. My lungs are filling up. Butch is paralyzed—if he ain't dead. A h—l of a wind-up! You can make it out the way Reynolds did. None of the gang that left with Wyatt knows about the side-trail by Spur rock. But you'd better beat it. Me, I've turned my last card. The case is empty!"

His head fell forward onto his arms. A trickle of scarlet came from the corner of his mouth. Pilmsoll looked at him calculatingly. Hahn could not ride. But he wouldn't die for a while. To leave him here where the raiders would find him might mean a confession wrung from him that would tell of the get-away trail by Spur rock and Nipple peaks. He shook Hahn by the sound shoulder.

"Brace up," he said. "You can hide in Split Rock cave. I'm going to put the girl in there. Take another drink. Pick up some grub. There's water in the cave. You can come out soon's the coast is clear."

"I'll not be coming out," said Hahn huskily. "But it's a good move." He might bleed to death. But what was the use?

Grit, who had opened a way out for Molly, lay still beneath the table. Molly, overtaken, was in a swoon. Pilmsoll sat in a stupor. The door swung wide. Cookie rushed in, his face muddy with alarm.

"The show's gone wrong," he cried to Pilmsoll, who stared at him half-comprehending. "For Gawd's sake, what's happened here? Gimme a drink." He snatched at the bottle and swallowed from the neck. "Here, you need a swig. We got to get out of here, pronto. Have you scragged the gel?" He thrust the bottle at Pilmsoll, who drank, senses rallying by the urge of danger that emanated from the cook like the sweet stench of a frightened animal.

"Brandon's gang has come back," said Cookie. "It's the d—dest streak of luck. They must have fell in with Wyatt or some of his pals. They must have been to the ranch. They cut off the boys and the horses over by Sand creek! Reynolds got clear. He saw them comin' an' streaked it. They were shootin' like h—l, he said. Hahn an' Butch has gone up to the lookout to . . . Hear that?"

That was a single rifle-shot, followed by the others, the last almost as one.

"H—l!" cried Pilmsoll, "they've got us this end. It's Wyatt. Just my d—d luck for him to meet up with Brandon."

Cookie ran outside and Pilmsoll followed to the door, lethargy leaving him in the face of disaster, though he could not think fast or clearly. Hahn came clattering over the rocks on his horse, his face chalky white.

"Go get him a slug of whisky," Pilmsoll ordered Cookie.

But Cookie, his face twitching with fright, jumped for his own mount and went galloping down the valley to the south.

Pilmsoll sent curses after him, reaching for his own pistol before he remembered it was inside, gringing Hahn's half out of its holster and then quitting as the fleeing cook tangented and disappeared behind some timber.

The handkerchief about Pilmsoll's wounded wrist was now a sodden rag, but the loss of blood had cleared his brain. He set his left arm about Hahn and helped him into the cabin. Molly was stirring and Pilmsoll scowled blackly at her. He gave Hahn a drink.

"Brace up," he said; "what happened? I know about Reynolds. I mean at the lookout."

"We no more than made the lookout," said Hahn, "before six men came riding along, beelied for trouble. One of them was the black-bearded guy from California who was here with that Brandon, first time they came nosing around. And another was Wyatt. Wyatt was just starting to point 'em out the entrance when Butch lets him have it. Hits him smack in the forehead. Before he could show 'em the way in. He may have told 'em about it on the way up. But Blackbeard must have caught the shine of Butch's barrel. He fires back—they all had their rifles handy 'cross the pommel—the bullet goes plumb through the tree and knocks Butch down. Went through both hips. He falls against me and I show in the open, sliding on that d—d slippery boulder, sliding inside and out of range, but they got me."

"They'll be through any minute. Pilm. You can't tell how much Wyatt told 'em on the way up. They've got me. I can't ride. My lungs are filling up. Butch is paralyzed—if he ain't dead. A h—l of a wind-up! You can make it out the way Reynolds did. None of the gang that left with Wyatt knows about the side-trail by Spur rock. But you'd better beat it. Me, I've turned my last card. The case is empty!"

His head fell forward onto his arms. A trickle of scarlet came from the corner of his mouth. Pilmsoll looked at him calculatingly. Hahn could not ride. But he wouldn't die for a while. To leave him here where the raiders would find him might mean a confession wrung from him that would tell of the get-away trail by Spur rock and Nipple peaks. He shook Hahn by the sound shoulder.

"Brace up," he said. "You can hide in Split Rock cave. I'm going to put the girl in there. Take another drink. Pick up some grub. There's water in the cave. You can come out soon's the coast is clear."

"I'll not be coming out," said Hahn huskily. "But it's a good move." He might bleed to death. But what was the use?

Grit, who had opened a way out for Molly, lay still beneath the table. Molly, overtaken, was in a swoon. Pilmsoll sat in a stupor. The door swung wide. Cookie rushed in, his face muddy with alarm.

"The show's gone wrong," he cried to Pilmsoll, who stared at him half-comprehending. "For Gawd's sake, what's happened here? Gimme a drink." He snatched at the bottle and swallowed from the neck. "Here, you need a swig. We got to get out of here, pronto. Have you scragged the gel?" He thrust the bottle at Pilmsoll, who drank, senses rallying by the urge of danger that emanated from the cook like the sweet stench of a frightened animal.

"Brandon's gang has come back," said Cookie. "It's the d—dest streak of luck. They must have fell in with Wyatt or some of his pals. They must have been to the ranch. They cut off the boys and the horses over by Sand creek! Reynolds got clear. He saw them comin' an' streaked it. They were shootin' like h—l, he said. Hahn an' Butch has gone up to the lookout to . . . Hear that?"

That was a single rifle-shot, followed by the others, the last almost as one.

"H—l!" cried Pilmsoll, "they've got us this end. It's Wyatt. Just my d—d luck for him to meet up with Brandon."

Cookie ran outside and Pilmsoll followed to the door, lethargy leaving him in the face of disaster, though he could not think fast or clearly. Hahn came clattering over the rocks on his horse, his face chalky white.

"Go get him a slug of whisky," Pilmsoll ordered Cookie.

But Cookie, his face twitching with fright, jumped for his own mount and went galloping down the valley to the south.

Pilmsoll sent curses after him, reaching for his own pistol before he remembered it was inside, gringing Hahn's half out of its holster and then quitting as the fleeing cook tangented and disappeared behind some timber.

The handkerchief about Pilmsoll's wounded wrist was now a sodden rag, but the loss of blood had cleared his brain. He set his left arm about Hahn and helped him into the cabin. Molly was stirring and Pilmsoll scowled blackly at her. He gave Hahn a drink.

"Brace up," he said; "what happened? I know about Reynolds. I mean at the lookout."

"We no more than made the lookout," said Hahn, "before six men came riding along, beelied for trouble. One of them was the black-bearded guy from California who was here with that Brandon, first time they came nosing around. And another was Wyatt. Wyatt was just starting to point 'em out the entrance when Butch lets him have it. Hits him smack in the forehead. Before he could show 'em the way in. He may have told 'em about it on the way up. But Blackbeard must have caught the shine of Butch's barrel. He fires back—they all had their rifles handy 'cross the pommel—the bullet goes plumb through the tree and knocks Butch down. Went through both hips. He falls against me and I show in the open, sliding on that d—d slippery boulder, sliding inside and out of range, but they got me."

"They'll be through any minute. Pilm. You can't tell how much Wyatt told 'em on the way up. They've got me. I can't ride. My lungs are filling up. Butch is paralyzed—if he ain't dead. A h—l of a wind-up! You can make it out the way Reynolds did. None of the gang that left with Wyatt knows about the side-trail by Spur rock. But you'd better beat it. Me, I've turned my last card. The case is empty!"

His head fell forward onto his arms. A trickle of scarlet came from the corner of his mouth. Pilmsoll looked at him calculatingly. Hahn could not ride. But he wouldn't die for a while. To leave him here where the raiders would find him might mean a confession wrung from him that would tell of the get-away trail by Spur rock and Nipple peaks. He shook Hahn by the sound shoulder.

"Brace up," he said. "You can hide in Split Rock cave. I'm going to put the girl in there. Take another drink. Pick up some grub. There's water in the cave. You can come out soon's the coast is clear."

"I'll not be coming out," said Hahn huskily. "But it's a good move." He might bleed to death. But what was the use?

Grit, who had opened a way out for Molly, lay still beneath the table. Molly, overtaken, was in a swoon. Pilmsoll sat in a stupor. The door swung wide. Cookie rushed in, his face muddy with alarm.

"The show's gone wrong," he cried to Pilmsoll, who stared at him half-comprehending. "For Gawd's sake, what's happened here? Gimme a drink." He snatched at the bottle and swallowed from the neck. "Here, you need a swig. We got to get out of here, pronto. Have you scragged the gel?" He thrust the bottle at Pilmsoll, who drank, senses rallying by the urge of danger that emanated from the cook like the sweet stench of a frightened animal.

"Brandon's gang has come back," said Cookie. "It's the d—dest streak of luck. They must have fell in with Wyatt or some of his pals. They must have been to the ranch. They cut off the boys and the horses over by Sand creek! Reynolds got clear. He saw them comin' an' streaked it. They were shootin' like h—l, he said. Hahn an' Butch has gone up to the lookout to . . . Hear that?"

That was a single rifle-shot, followed by the others, the last almost as one.

"H—l!" cried Pilmsoll, "they've got us this end. It's Wyatt. Just my d—d luck for him to meet up with Brandon."

Cookie ran outside and Pilmsoll followed to the door, lethargy leaving him in the

Flies and Mosquitoes

are a pest and dangerous to your health. We sell many good remedies as:

Fly-Tox
Jacks Fly Mist
El Vampiro
Black Flag
Mosquitone
Oil Citronella
Lollacapp
and others

Everything a good Drug Store should have.

CENTRAL DRUG STORE

C. W. OLSEN, Prop'r.
GRAYLING, MICH.
We Deliver Phone No. 1

CRAWFORD AVALANCHE
SUBSCRIPTION RATES
One Year.....$2.00
Six Months.....1.00
Three Months......50
Outside of Crawford County and Roscommon, per year.....$2.50

Entered as second class matter at the Postoffice, Grayling, Mich., under the act of Congress of March 3, 1919.
O. P. Schumann, Editor and Proprietor

THURSDAY, JULY 19th, 1923.

LOCAL NEWS

Have your prescriptions filled at Central Drug store, price and quality always right.

The ladies National League met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joseph Morency, the affair being the regular social meeting of the organization. All enjoyed the afternoon very much.

Mrs. William Robinson and two children Eleanor and Joseph accompanied by Harvey Smith left this morning for Mackinaw City and will take the boat to the Island to spend a couple of days.

R. S. Babbitt and a crew of workmen have been erecting a number of observation towers throughout the county the past week. The towers are for the use of the fire wardens in observing forest fires.

Mrs. Bert Ashenfelter is entertaining her mother Mrs. Mary Leece of Detroit. Mrs. Leece motored to Grayling last week Saturday from Detroit with her son Harry Leece and Mr. Beauford who spent a few days at the Ashenfelter home. Mrs. Leece will remain for an indefinite time.

Eastman Kodaks and films bring home the good pictures.

James Brusky arrived Monday from Rochester, N. Y., to be the guest of Miss Mae Underhill, who is visiting her brother, Alfred Underhill and wife. The party are resorting at Lake Margrethe.

Mrs. Rosa Joseph, who has been spending the summer in Chicago, arrived in the city Monday to look after some business affairs and to visit relatives. While here she was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Joseph. She returned to the windy city Tuesday night.

R. N. Martin has purchased the home of Ernest Larson on Maple St. and is moving into same this week. Mr. and Mrs. Larson are moving into the Ed. Sorenson home on Ionia St. to reside for the present. Mr. Martin's old home on Maple St. to his brother Louis J. Martin.

Benjamin Jorgenson, who has been in the service of the U. S. Army for the past three years arrived home Monday morning and is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rasmus Jorgenson and friends. He came from Marfa, Texas where he has been lately stationed. He was a member of the U. S. Cavalry.

A young thoroughbred Acardale dog, belonging to Edwin Morfit, was recently killed by being struck by an auto, on du Pont avenue. The accident was no doubt due to excessive speeding. Edwin paid $24 for the dog when it was but few weeks old, and is feeling badly over the loss of his pet.

The Michigan State Department of Health has notified the physicians of the State that, for the treatment and prevention of diphtheria, the state laboratory will be very glad to furnish on application sterile swabs for taking throat cultures, free Schick test material, and free toxin-antitoxin. Antitoxin is distributed free thru the regular distributors located in all parts of the State.

Schram's orchestra of this city will play for an opening dancing party to be held in the McKibbin pavilion at Prudenville, Houghton Lake Friday night, July 20. It is expected that a goodly number from Grayling will attend.

Horseback riding seems to be gaining in popularity and each day sees many riders upon the public highways. Some of the riders are still new at the business and are sometimes disturbed by passing autos. A little care to slow down cars when passing riders, will be greatly appreciated by the latter.

There will be no services at the Memorial church for the next two weeks. Services will be resumed August 5th. Pastor Jones and his family will spend this time at their lake cottage near Glenzie, Mich. Sunday school will be held as usual, except that the hour will be changed from 11:45 to 11:00 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. William Quiggle, Albert Shepherdson and daughter Eva Myrtle returned the latter part of the week from a week's motor trip visiting relatives at Grand Ledge and other places. On their return they were accompanied by Mr. Quiggle's mother Mrs. Bush of Grand Ledge, who is making them a visit.

There is going to be a ball game here Sunday afternoon at 3:30 between the Grayling Snakes (Switchmen) and the Roundhouse Rats. The boys have been practicing and each side feels that they will win. There is considerable base ball talent on the teams and a good snappy game is promised. Everyone welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Morfit, and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Myster accompanied Clarence and Edwin Morfit to Camp Iquois, at Sand Lake, near Tawas City, Wednesday, where the two boys will spend a couple of weeks in a boys' Y. M. C. A. camp. This is their third annual outing at this pleasant place, and is looked forward to each year by the boys with great anticipation.

Try the small packages of Whitman's summer candy: Peanut Brittle, Mints, Caramels and many others. Central Drug Store.

Albert Pochelon of Detroit is spending a few days with his family, who are at their cabin on the North Branch of the AuSable for the summer.

Wm. McCullough and son Charles of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. B. Higginbotham arrived from Detroit Monday and are visiting at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCullough for a week.

Manager Holger F. Peterson of the Grayling Laundry is busy this week installing machinery and equipment for the new laundry which will be located in the old Mahon building at the corner of Maple and Lake streets.

Mrs. James Olson and children who have been visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Hans Petersen returned to their home in Oxford Tuesday. Miss Mildred Smith of Saginaw who has and Mrs. John Olson accompanied them home for a visit.

Mrs. Dell F. Weir is feeling proud over the fact that she landed a five pound green bass Saturday while fishing in Lake Margrethe. The Weirs were guests that day of Carl Peterson and family, who are resorting at McIntyre's landing.

Mr. and Mrs. Marius Hanson entertained 12 guests at dinner Saturday evening at their summer home, at Lake Margrethe. The evening was spent most enjoyably playing Bridge. Mrs. Olaf Michelson and Holger Peterson held highest scores.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCullough enjoyed having as their guests last week Mr. and Mrs. Albert Trathen and daughters Jean and Marion, who motored here from Shawano, Wisconsin and spent a few days. Mrs. Trathen is a sister of Mrs. McCullough.

Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson and daughter Miss Eleanor and son Joseph of Saginaw are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Milne at Lake Margrethe. They arrived Sunday and expect to remain about two weeks. Also Harvey Smith of Vassar is a guest at the Milne cottage.

Word has been received from the War department by Second Lieut. Russell E. Bates of the coast artillery corps son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Bates of this city, to report for assignment to duty at Fort Monroe, Va. Lieut. Bates is visiting friends in the East at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kessler and Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Cassidy invited a number of friends to the home of the former Sunday evening to meet Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Kelly of Grand Rapids, who have been in the city the past couple of weeks, enjoying the breezes of Lake Margrethe, guests in the Cassidy cottage.

Miss Mildred Hertzler, a former teacher of the Grayling schools was in Grayling one day last week a guest of Mrs. Earl Whipple while enroute to Charlevoix from Mt. Clemens. Miss Hertzler having received the highest standing as teacher in a Mt. Clemens school was given a free outing at Charlevoix.

Word has been received of the marriage of Mrs. Irene M. Chinnock to Mr. Arthur J. Gaudette which took place in Tacoma, Washington, on Wednesday, July the Fourth. Mrs. Chinnock formerly resided in Grayling with her mother Mrs. Herman Mathies and has many friends here who will be pleased to hear of her marriage.

Marshall Holliday, Miss Helen Benjamin and Mr. and Mrs. Russell William of Detroit who had been spending a week camping at Carp Lake visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Mathieson enroute back home. Mr. and Mrs. Williams left Saturday for Saginaw and were joined there by Mr. Holliday and Miss Benjamin Sunday.

Mrs. Irene Mathies, wife of Floyd C. Mathias of this city in a fit of despondency, it is reported, attempted to take her life by swallowing a quantity of iodine, Wednesday morning. A physician was quickly summoned and the young woman was restored and has now fully recovered from the effects of the poison. The young woman's mother was called from Detroit and arrived on the early morning train this morning.

Miss Gladys Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Clark of this city was united in marriage to Mr. Emery Craft of Rose City Saturday evening. The wedding took place in Rose City at the home of the groom's parents, Miss Della Beck of Grayling acting as bridesmaid and Mr. John Craft brother of the groom as bestman. Only the immediate relatives witnessed the ceremony. The couple will make their home with the bride's parents for the present. Mr. Craft is employed at the Planing mill in this city.

CHAUTAUQUA IS GOING STRONG

LARGE CROWDS ATTEND AFTERNOON AND NIGHT PROGRAMS.

Grayling Post to Clear About $100 on Affair.

The Traverse-Newton chautauqua began a three day program here Tuesday afternoon, the opening attraction being Landis Orchestra, which rendered a fine musical program; and U. G. Lacey, lecturer. In the evening the programs were by the same persons with a change in subjects.

Wednesday the Herrod Jubilee Singers were the big card, together with Ask Davis, a cartoonist of more than average ability. Both afternoon and evening programs were well received.

Today is the closing time and is to be featured by an afternoon and evening drama the latter being entitled "A pair of sixes." Josh Lee, story teller, mimic, impersonator, humorist, speaker and all around funny man, is also one of the attractions.

All the numbers have given splendid satisfaction. Back of the guarantors of the contract, the members of Grayling American Post Legion have been boosting the ticket sale and before the doors opened a the first performance enough season tickets had been sold to pay the cost of the Chautauqua. Over that amount the Legion was to receive half the net proceeds. There are a few local expenses also that have to be paid for by the Legion; however it is estimated that the ex-service men should clear at least $100.

The big burden for the success of the undertaking has been upon their shoulders and they have done well. They, and the contract signers before them, have made it possible for the people of Grayling and surrounding country to enjoy three days of good music, fun, literature, art and lectures, all of a high quality and at a small expense.

Everything has passed off nicely; the weather has been ideal and everyone in a Chautauqua mood, and except for an excess of pesky mosquitoes in the evening, attracted there from the nearby swamps by the bright lights, all was about perfect.

Already a contract for next year's Chautauqua is under way of being signed up and no doubt that before the evening program is finished, the contract will be complete.

Coming

A. S. Allard

Eye Sight Specialist of Bay City—will be at Shoppengons Inn Monday, July 23. Glasses fitted that give results.

WANTS

Advertisements will be accepted under this heading at the rate of 5 cents per line. No adv. taken for less than 25 cts. There are about six words to the line. SEND MONEY WITH ORDER

SEWING WANTED—ALL KINDS. No pattern required. Just a picture of what you want. Corner Lake and Plum streets. Mrs. Oscar Deekrow. 7-19-3.

COTTAGE FOR RENT AT LAKE Margrethe for the remainder of July. Phone 972. 7-19-1.

FOR SALE—FOUR YEAR OLD gray mare, weight about 1400. Inquire of Mrs. Robert Papenfus at Dam Four, Lovells. 7-19-3.

STRAYED—TWO BLACK, YEARLING heifers, somewhere near Fred-eric. Please notify Tony Nelson, Grayling. 7-19-3.

LOST—THE FORE PART OF JULY, a small case containing a gold sary with amber beads. Also several medals. Reward offered for return to Mrs. George Burke. 2w.

FOR SALE—TEAM OF WORK horses, 7 and 8 years old. Also harness. Weight 1500 pounds each. Good bargain. Inquire at Sullivan Boarding house, next to Burke garage.

WANTED—PLAIN SEWING AND dressmaking by Mrs. Frank Thompson, near Danebod Hall. 7-19-3. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fletcher and

FOR SALE—A BED DAVENPORT. leather upholstered. Mrs. J. W. Letzku, Phone 762. 7-19-1.

LOST—BOX CONTAINING FISHING tackle; also small box containing name of J. W. Hartwick, Thursday night, July 5, between Wikeley Bridge and Grayling. Reward offered for return to AVALANCHE office. 7-12-2.

HOUSE TO RENT—SIX ROOMS ON McClellan street. Phone 153. Walmer Jorgenson. 7-19-1.

FOR SALE—COTTAGE SITES ON beautiful AuSable river. 5 acres and up, all with river frontage, title perfect. Easy terms. John B. Redhead, Lovells, Crawford Co., Mich. 5-2-10.

GARAGE FOR RENT—1 1/2 block from Main street, convenient and safe. Apply Sullivan Boarding House, next to Burke Garage. 7-19-1.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine
Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE consists of a local treatment which quickly relieves by local application, and the internal medicine, a tonic, which assists in improving the general health. Sold by druggists for over 40 years. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Suffer from sunburn? MENTHOLATUM cools and heals.

WHOOPIING COUGH
Hard on child—hard on parents. Control dreadful whooping and coughing, help to quiet sleep with CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY. Every user is a friend.

Come Quick Dollar Day BARGAINS

OUR Dollar Day OFFER

The Hit of the Day

Ladies' Bathing Slippers

VALUES to $2.00 FOR

1.00

DOLLAR $ DAY

Straws—your choice $1.00

Silk Hose

Pure Silk with seam, and fashion marks in Black, Brown and Grey, Values $2.00 for—

$1.00

For One Dollar

Men's Brown, Black and Grey Silk Hose, clocked, values 75c.

2 Pairs for $1.00

We Challenge Bargains for Dollar Day

Men's Dress Shirts

All sizes with collars and neck bands, values to $2.00 for—

$1.00

Your Dollar Will Buy

any pair Women's and Children's white pumps and oxfords.

Children's Half Hose

29c values, all colors, plains and some with fancy tops.

5 Pairs for $1.00

Caps

all shapes and colors, values $1.50 to $3.00, your choice—

$1.00

SATURDAY ← → SATURDAY

Max Landsberg

Also Bargains in every Dept.

Spend a $ and save a $

Candy

We carry the most complete and up-to-date line of candy, always fresh—

the Gilbert—
Johnson & Leggett lines

are the last word in quality. "When you think of candy, think of Lewis' Drug Store."

The Famous Mocha & Java COFFEE

I wish to announce through these columns that I have through the courtesy of Salling Hanson Co., obtained the exclusive right to handle and sell the genuine Plantation Mocha and Java in Grayling. This coffee has successfully been handled by Salling Hanson Co., for many years.

A fresh supply has just been received and we will be pleased to fill your orders.

Our grocery stock is complete—Fancy and Staple.

H. PETERSEN, Grocer

OUR BULLETIN OF

WEEKLY BARGAINS

A Penny Saved is a Penny Earned—Franklin.

AUTOGRAFIC KODAKS $6.50 UP.
WE ARE YOUR DEALERS.

Kodak Keeps the Story—
All the story, not only the picture but the date and title written on the film at the time. And this feature is exclusively Eastman. At our Kodak counter all the Kodaks are always ready for you to see. Drop in and pick out the one you want.

We handle the Auto-graphic film, the complete Eastman line.

Steel Crib, one of our big bargains, 42 in. high, 7-8 in. continuous posts, 1-4 in. filling rods, patent elastic fabric, with spring helical ends, noiseless sliding sides. The finish, blue and white combination makes it very attractive, price—9.90

We also handle the American Beauty Iron. The "Spring Within" cotton felt mattress, absolutely noiseless, comfortable hygienic and durable. The ticking and cotton felt filling enclose a compact series of steel coil springs; each spring is in an individual pocket thus preventing them from rubbing together and making them absolutely noiseless. This mattress is comfortable even after years of service. A mattress for particular people. Special price this week 27.00

Electric Irons, Universal, 8 lbs., nickel plated, cool, rigid handle, complete with 6 feet of cord and patented safety stand 6.75

Electric Grill—The Universal. This grill will boil, broil, fry and toast and cook two things at once. 4 heats 8 in. diameter, 5% in. high, full nickel plated steel, fibre feet, 3 pans 1/4, 1 1/4 in. and 2 in. deep. Embonized wood handles, Price 10.00

Iced Tea Tumbler, 12 oz. genuine cut crystal. Such a low price that it's really remarkable, per set of 6 2.75

Thin Blown Tumblers, 9 ounce, straight shape. First quality blown like this will cost you a lot more elsewhere, per set of 6 55c

Iced Tea Tumblers, straight shape for home or restaurant use, per set of 6 60c

These prices stand good until our next bulletin is issued next week.

SORENSEN BROTHERS

The Home Of Dependable Furniture.

LOCAL NEWS

THURSDAY, JULY 19th, 1923.

Large assortment of Bathing Caps of the famous Miller make.

Central Drug Store.

Earl Kidd and Joe Fournier motored to Gaylord Friday.

Ben Shore of Bay City is in Grayling on business for a few days.

Ask for Grayling made Ice Cream at the fountain. Purest and best.

Misses Anna Peterson and Vera Matsen were in Gaylord on business Friday.

A. J. Joseph and Charles Fehr motored to Traverse City Tuesday on business.

Mrs. B. J. Conklin and son Bernard spent Sunday and Monday in Bay City.

Erlless Wolcott, Truman Laveck and John Craft motored to Rose City Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Boeson and Mr. Mrs. Paul Ziebell motored to Traverse City Sunday.

Miss Marjorie Camel of Rose City is visiting at the home of Mrs. Truman Ingram.

Mrs. Hattie Bissonette and Mrs. Ed. Cooper were business callers in Gaylord Friday.

Miss Fedora Montour returned Monday from a two weeks visit with relatives in Standish.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Chappel and family motored to Rose City Sunday to spend the day with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Einar Matsen and family enjoyed a motor trip to Petoskey and Harbor Springs Sunday.

Isaac Lovell, Mrs. David White, Mrs. Agnes Boniface and Miss Minnie Lovell enjoyed a motor trip to Johannesburg Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reynolds left Friday to spend several days visiting Mrs. Reynolds, brother Harold McNeven and family in Detroit.

Miss Marjorie Woods spent Sunday visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. John L. Woods and family in Bay City. She returned Monday.

Rev. James Swanson of Traverse City returned to his home Monday after spending three weeks visiting at the home of Marlin Maxwell.

Miss Marjorie Fitzgerald who has been visiting relatives in Gaylord previous to her departure for Grand Rapids, was in Grayling Saturday.

Miss Nellie Loss of Vassar a former teacher of Grayling Schools is in the city the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Peterson and family this week.

Miss Agnes Mayo of Detroit arrived Saturday to visit her parents Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mayo and family. She expects to remain three or four weeks.

Mrs. Minnie Daugherty will leave today for Bay City and Twining and other places for a two weeks vacation from her duties at the Grayling Mercantile Co.

Miss Margrethe Nelson is enjoying a couple of weeks vacation from her duties in the Bank, and is spending it among friends in Detroit, Ypsilanti and Grand Ledge.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bridges and daughter Miss June left Wednesday by motor for North Carolina owing to the ill health of Mrs. Bridges. They expect to reside there.

For the pleasure of her guest, Mark Murray of Detroit, Mrs. Esbern Hanson entertained a few boys and girls Monday afternoon. Mark was 13 years old and his friends remembered the day.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Steggall and daughter Miss Helen returned to their home in Bay City Thursday after visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gillett for a week. Mr. Steggall is a brother of Mr. Gillett.

Mrs. Anthony Trudeau returned home Wednesday from Detroit, where she had been visiting her daughters Mrs. Arthur Capstraw and Mrs. Lawrence Roberts. She was accompanied home by Mrs. V. Schram and daughter Agnes and her granddaughter, Elizabeth Zoe Roberts. Mrs. Schram is a sister of Mrs. Trudeau.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fletcher and Mr. and Mrs. George Schaeble entertained Mr. and Mrs. Kelly and family of the Kelly Bros. Stock Company at dinner at the home of the latter at the Military reservation Friday evening. The Kellys were neighbors of the Fletcher family when they resided in Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. James Field and Mr. Harold Glenn of Saginaw are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. King at Lake Margrethe. Frank Karnes and family are also at the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Randall, who are at the Bay City Club on the Ausable spent Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robin.

Mrs. Randall is a sister of the latter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fletcher and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bales and children of Waterville, Ohio, arrived Sunday to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Clark and family. They made the trip by auto.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Herie and the latter's sister Miss Annabell Neilson and Margaret Fehr motored to East Tawas Sunday to accompany Miss Nielson back who has been visiting her sister for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cameron and Mr. and Mrs. Angus McCauley motored to Kingsley Sunday and visited Owen Cameron, who was showing there with the Gormand-Ford Stock company. This week the troupe is at Kalkaska.

Little Misses Genevieve and Ada Jane McPeak, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lester McPeak whom have been visiting their aunt Mrs. P. D. Forchers for several days returned to their home in Bay City Saturday. Mrs. Forchers accompanied them.

Miss Fernie Armstrong returned Monday from Detroit where she had been visiting relatives for a week. She was accompanied home by her cousin Mrs. C. M. Church and son Robert James of Centerville, Mich., who are visiting here for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ashenfelter are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Cummings of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Leece and daughters Dorothy and May of Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. George Leece and son Herbert of Jackson and Robert James of Center Line, Mich., motored to Grayling and will remain a week.

A. S. Allard, eyesight specialist of Bay City will be at Shoppemagon Inn Monday July 23.

Three days service on any Victor record not in stock. We have all the new ones. Central Drug Store.

July Reductions

Entire stock of Ladies' and Children's Strap Pumps, Oxfords and Sport Shoes at---

20% OFF

Tennis Shoes

Men's, Boys' and children's, any Style we have them on hand---

10% Off

Closing out our MEN'S OXFORDS at following prices

$6.50 Oxfords	$4.98
4.50 Oxfords	3.98
6.50 Sport Oxfords	5.25

The balance of our Florsheim OXFORDS and SHOES reduced to 8.85

Men's Straw Hats 1/4 Off. Children's Straw Hats 1/4 Off.

Ladies Hats 1/2 Off---Ladies Silk Gloves 1/4 Off

Balance of our stock of Ratines, Voiles, and Wash goods—1-4 Off

Grayling Mercantile Co.

The Quality Store.

Take your prescriptions to Central Drug Store.

Drink more buttermilk; good for your health. Get it at Creamery.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bowen returned Sunday morning from a couple of weeks visit in Ohio.

There will be a regular meeting of Grayling Chapter O. E. S. No. 83 on Wednesday evening July 25th.

There will be a regular meeting of Rebekah Lodge and installation of officers Monday evening July 23.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McNis of Detroit have been visiting at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. O. Milnes.

There will be a picnic for the children of St. Mary's church at Conning Grove Thursday afternoon, July 26th.

Miss Margaret Cassidy of Grand Rapids is enjoying a vacation here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cassidy.

Miss Mary Watts of Detroit arrived Monday to spend the remainder of the month of July, the guest of Miss Jennie Ingley at Rustle Inn, Lake Margrethe.

Frank Tetu and family and Miss Marguerite Montour motored to West Branch Sunday spending the day visiting Mrs. Tetu's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. George Biggs and daughter Miss Verna left Saturday morning on a motor trip to Flint and other places expecting to be gone about three weeks.

Earl Hewitt and family motored down from Cheboygan Sunday and spent the day visiting at the home of Mrs. Hewitt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cassidy.

Rev. W. L. Jones and family left Tuesday for Glenn, Michigan, to spend a couple of weeks. Rev. Jones will return in time to hold services on Sunday, July 29th.

C. M. Morfit and family and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mister, parents of Mrs. Morfit, left Saturday morning on a two day auto trip, which included a visit to the Soo locks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Wright and daughter Florence of St. Louis, Mich. were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Bates over Sunday. Mr. Wright was formerly an attorney in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Senay of Linwood who were recently wed motored to Grayling Tuesday and are spending a few days visiting Mrs. Senay's father John O. Goudrow and other relatives.

The next regular meeting of the Mooseheart Legion will be held Wednesday afternoon, July 25th, beginning at two o'clock. Committee to entertain: Sullivan, Schreck, Kerns and Kesseler.

Additional locals on supplement page.

Ask your grocer for Grayling made butter; fresh and pure.

Mrs. Victor Peterson is entertaining Mrs. E. D. Sykes of Wayne, Mich.

Shower baths are being installed in the McCullough-Matson barber shop.

William H. and Frank Strope of Detroit have joined their families here at Lake Margrethe.

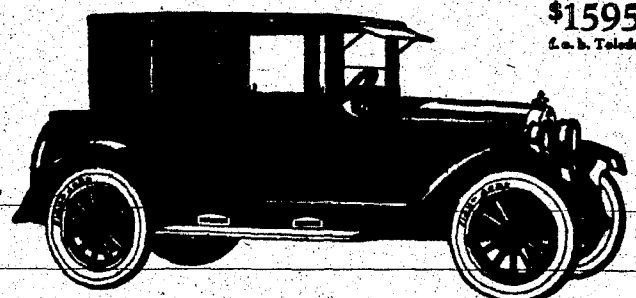

Elliot Ziegler returned the fore part of the week to his home in Big Rapids after a couple of weeks stay in Grayling.

Gail and Lois Parker, children of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Parker, are recovering from an attack of pneumonia.

Judge Wellington Batterson of Kenosha, Wis., where he will make his home. Mr. Jensen has been a resident of Grayling for thirty-two years and has many friends here.

Peter Jensen left Wednesday for Kenosha, Wis., where he will make his home. Mr. Jensen has been a resident of Grayling for thirty-two years and has many friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. William Pobur, Jr., and daughters and the former's father, William Pobur, Sr. and his sons Elmer and Harvey of Detroit are here to enjoy an outing at Lake Margrethe, occupying the Hans Petersen and Thomas Cassidy cottages. While here they are guests of Mrs. Pobur's parents Mr. and Mrs. Hans Petersen.

$1595
L. A. Toland

Coupe-Sedan

WILLYS

No Trick Seats

The new Willys-Knight Coupe-Sedan has no folding seats to climb over or squeeze between. Instead, it has doors both front and rear, offering easy entrance and exit to all five passengers. This superb creation combines engineering excellence with complete, luxurious closed car appointments at a modest price. We know of no Willys-Knight engine that has worn out.

M. A. Atkinson, Dealer
Grayling, Mich.

KNIGHT

New Active Cone in the Crater of Vesuvius

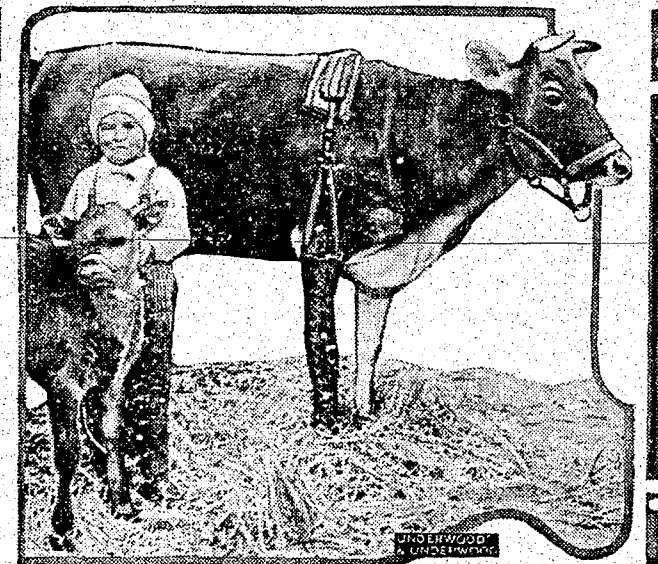

Collected from the craters of Mt. Etna, the volcano Vesuvius has been showing increased activity and the magnificent display at night has been enjoyed by the throngs of tourists in Italy. This photograph of the crater shows the new cone.

Smashing Up Discarded Vessels

This interesting photograph shows how United States ships which have been sold for junk are being smashed to smithereens in a few minutes at the yards of the Western Marine and Salvage company at Alexandria, Va. The large ball is raised to a height of 75 feet by a huge electro-magnet, and then when the current is cut off the two tons of steel drops with terrific force breaking the hulls into fragments of commercial size.

Peg Leg Bossy of Lima, Ohio

When old Bossy lost her right foreleg, amputated because of an infection, her owner, Dr. R. F. Fuller, a veterinary surgeon of Lima, Ohio, decided that a mere missing foreleg shouldn't cause him to destroy an otherwise perfectly serviceable cow. So he rigged up an artificial limb and now Bossy stumps around quite handsly on her peg leg.

U. S. Destroyers Off San Diego Harbor

Destroyers maneuvering on San Diego, Calif., on the Southern drill grounds where the Pacific fleet is playing at war.

TAKEN FROM EXCHANGES

Belfast has the largest rope works in the world.
Kolinsky is a fur-bearing animal whose habitat is Russia.
A British airplane engineer has recently designed a strange spiral chimney to deflect high winds.
Portland, Ore., will entertain this year's convention of the National Association of Business and Professional Women's clubs.

Italy uses but four gallons of milk per capita per annum, which is the lowest average of any country.
An opal made by fusing silica with ether is said to be even more lovely in its changing hues than the mine stone.
Typewriters which are painted white all over are said to improve the user's output while causing less eye-strain.

TO TREAT DEAF PRINCE

Dr. Curtis H. Muncie of Brooklyn, N. Y., widely known as a specialist in diseases of the ear, has gone to Europe, and admits he is going to treat "a well-known case of very severe deafness, given up by specialists in Europe." It is known that the patient is none other than Don Jaime, second son of King Alfonso, who has been deaf since birth. Dr. Muncie also accepted invitations to demonstrate his new method of "manipulative surgery" or "reconstruction of the Eustachian tube" before leading medical associations in London, Paris and Glasgow. He uses no instruments in his treatments of the deaf.

TO GOLF WITH HARDING

Lieut. Gov. W. C. Nichol of Vancouver, British Columbia, who has been challenged to a game of golf by President Harding on the latter's return from his trip to Alaska. The match is scheduled for about July 26.

NEWEST OF DANCES

Arthur Murray, director of the National Institute of Social Dancing, and Miss Grace Carlton, introducing the "Prince of Wales Fox Trot," which was presented at the convention of the Institute in New York.

"Tis a Mystery.
"So there's another rupture of Mount Vesuvius," said Mrs. Partington, as she put on her specs. "The paper tells us about the burning latter running down the mountains, but it don't tell how it got afire."

What the Vulgate Is.
The Vulgate is applied to the Latin version of the Scriptures which the Council of Trent authorized in 1546. The older version, known as the Italic, is supposed to have been made in the Second century.

OUR COMIC SECTION

Big Events in the Lives of Little Men

(Copyright, W. N. U.)

THE ANNUAL VISIT TO UNCLE JOHN'S FARM

But There Are Some Subjects of Common Interest

© Western Newspaper Union

VAN ZELM

It Happened to Be One

© Western Newspaper Union

HYPNOTISM

The terms hypnotism, mesmerism, and animal magnetism have been variously applied to designate a mysterious force emanating from one individual, and inducing in another person peculiar nervous conditions in which the body and mind are supposed to be influenced. The phenomena of animal magnetism were supposed to be due to some kind of magnetic force or influence peculiar to living beings, and analogous to the action of a magnet upon steel. The name mesmerism was given to the phenomena in honor of one of the earliest investigators, F. A. Mesmer, a German physician.

Valuable Imitation Pearls.

The number of false jewels manufactured is enormous, and among these imitations none have ever been more perfect than so-called Venetian pearls. Their manufacture is a lost art, the secret having died with the inventor, a poor Venetian, and it was not until after his death that their beauty and value were recognized. There are said to be no more than ten or twelve thousand in existence. They are very hard, their luster is perfect, and they now command a price almost equal to that of the gem produced by the oyster.

Nothing Ever Certain.
Heaven makes sport of human affairs and the present hour gives no sure promise of the next.—Ovid.

Celebration Committees!

I furnish all concessions for celebrations, either on percentage or will buy them outright. Write at once for proposition, stating dates to be held.

GEO. W. BRINK
1207 Washington Blvd., Detroit, Mich.

Facial Blemishes

Sallow, muddy, roughened or blotched complexions are usually due to constipation. When you are constipated, not enough of Nature's lubricating liquid is produced in the bowel to keep the food waste soft and moving. Doctors prescribe Nujol because it acts like this natural lubricant and thus secures regular bowel movements by Nature's own method—lubrication. Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so cannot gripe. Try it today.

Matched.
Misses—It is only fair to warn you, Bridget, that my husband swears a little sometimes.
New Cook—That's all right, mum. Shure, I do it meself.—Boston Transcript.

Sure Relief FOR INDIGESTION

Carrying the Load.
The recent publicity given co-eds at the university has caused quite a lot of apparently "longue-twisted" comments from the co-eds themselves. For instance, in substance, the following is a conversation between two of the fair damsels:
"Well, what do you think of the scandal that they are shooting at us about getting parties?"
Other co-ed: "I have passed it up as a huge joke."
"Why, sure; that's all it is. Why should they accuse all of them by actions of a few of us?"—Columbus Dispatch.

Her Only Flight Through Air.
Little Nellie's mother was entertaining a famous aviator. After he had finished a thrilling story, little daughter sighed deeply and said:
"I've clear forgot how 't feels to sail through the air."
"Why, Nellie," said her mother in a shocked voice, "you were never in the air in your life."
"Gracious, mamma! Have you forgotten that the stork brought me?"—Everybody's Magazine.

These Days.
"Dearest, you are the light of my heart; the angel of my life. You are the only woman I ever loved!"
"Darling, you are the best man on earth. And now that we're tied to each other, let's pretend we're awfully happy!"—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

What the average man really thinks of a coquette wouldn't look well in print.

GRINNELL BROS.

Store Open
Evenings

GREAT PIANO SALE

STARTS FRIDAY
July 20, '23
8:00 A. M.

THE CROWDS will be enormous, everyone looking for the best bargain

PLENTY for ALL

But Will You Find What You Want If You Wait a Day Longer? Look Over This List of

Used Player Specials

Original $650 Player Now.....	$262
Original 675 Player Now.....	289
Original 700 Player Now.....	320
Original 750 Player Now.....	365
Original 695 Player Now.....	410
Original 750 Player Now.....	430

$298

Just a Few We Are Closing Out at This Price. Rolls and Bench Extra.

A Wonderful Snap

EVERY PIANO OR PLAYER sold during this sale backed by this great retail, wholesale and manufacturing organization.

This old reliable house has never sent out an instrument we could not stand back of.

ABOVE ALL—
YOU MUST BE PLEASED

Today is the Day
Why wait and be Disappointed

WILL OPEN TO THE MUSIC LOVING PEOPLE OF THIS COMMUNITY

During the last few months we have taken in exchange more high grade Pianos and Players than any other period since this great institution was organized over 43 years ago.

BARGAIN NEWS COMING from THIS ORGANIZATION, WORLD'S LARGEST RETAIL PIANO HOUSE Means more to Piano buyers of this community than cheap prices and easy terms. Many Pianos to select from. Your choice is really unlimited. You are assured of just the instrument at price you want to pay.

New, Used, Rebuilt, Shopworn and Exchanged Pianos. All Must Go!

No Money Down

Trade in your old Piano or Phonograph as first payment. Your old Piano or Phonograph accepted as first payment.

This is your chance!

DAD

You like music

MOTHER

wants music, and the

KIDDIES

Must have music.

You have waited too long already. Read over our proposition and you will see there's no reason for letting those of your family go another day without music.

THEY NEED IT

AND

DESERVE IT

We have arranged Prices and Terms that hundreds will hasten to take advantage of. Be one of the first.

HURRY

$345

COMPLETE OUTFIT (Full 88-Note)

PLAYER PIANO

all latest attachments, like new, together with Player Bench, and Assortment Music Rolls. All for only $345.

ORIGINAL PRICE $650.00

Hurry! Hurry!

OF COURSE

You intend to have a Musical Instrument in Your Home—

TODAY

is the day!

In the past 43 Years The House of Grinnell has made thousands upon thousands of homes happy through their great special values and terms making it so easily possible for everyone to be the proud owner of a musical instrument.

OUR GREATEST EFFORT

along this line starts

FRIDAY,

July 20

READ!

every word of this page of BARGAINS then

$181

IT CAN'T BE DUPLICATED

Beautiful Piano

Reliable Standard Make and Bench to Match, Only $181. Original Price $350.

OTHER USED

Piano Specials

Original $275 Piano Now.....	$ 69
Original 325 Piano Now.....	87
Original 360 Piano Now.....	98
Original 350 Piano Now.....	118
Original 400 Piano Now.....	135
Original 400 Piano Now.....	167
Original 450 Now.....	198

Grand Pianos

Unusual Bargains
For this Sale

Hurry! Hurry!
The Time is Short

30 Days=Free Trial=30 Days

If you are not absolutely satisfied with your purchase any time within 30 days we will gladly exchange your Piano or Player for any instrument you may select of equal or better grade.

CONSIDER THESE FACTS

We have been doing business in Michigan for 43 years. We are the largest retail Piano house in the world. We own and operate about 40 stores in Michigan, Canada and Ohio, together with three piano factories.

THE NAME GRINNELL BROS.

Has been before the public for so many years—so much does it mean in vast resources, in fairness, liberality and straightforward business dealings, in dependability proven by hundreds of thousands of pleased purchasers—that you must certainly realize that you buy here with utmost safety, no matter what you choose, no matter what priced instrument you select.

YOU ARE ABSOLUTELY ASSURED OF COMPLETE AND PERMANENT SATISFACTION

CROWDS will be here every day this week.

COME EARLY—don't risk being disappointed.

Store Open EVERY EVENING During Sale!

Grinnell Bros.

Be Here When Our Doors Open Friday Morning

HAT SHOPPE Grayling, Mich.

FREDERIC NEWS.

Messrs. Wm. Butler and Will Taylor and two sisters passed thru our Village last Wednesday enroute to Deward fishing and they spelled Fish with big capitals as they took 2-two bushel gunny sacks along to put their fish in. When they came back they spelled fish in small letters.

Mr. Fenutamaucker, the singer is helping out at the meetings. An open air meeting at the band stand Saturday night assisted by the Fayette ladies.

The Ladies Aid will meet on the 25th at Grandma Barber's. Members will all bring something for a pot luck lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Watkins are assisting with the meetings much to their improvement, as the former is an able speaker.

Ex-Probate Judge Wellington Batterson at present writing is very low with a slight change for the better.

James Patterson had a pleasant visit from his sister of West Virginia last week.

Mrs. Ruby Hopkins was called here from Detroit by the serious illness of her father Mr. Batterson.

Huckleberries galore and lots of pickers from Mancelona and other places.

Mrs. B. J. Callahan made a business trip to Bay City last Friday.

Grandpa Brady of Grayling is visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. B. J. Callahan.

Elmer Batterson is here from Jackson called here by the sickness of his father.

Mrs. Consaunt and family enjoyed a visit from Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Lewis of Port Huron last week, also Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Morash of Jackson last week.

Rev. Fr. Bosler breakfasted at B. J. Callahan's Monday.

Miss Ethel Parson is the smiling waitress at Mrs. Charron's Ice Cream Parlor.

Rev. Watkins and wife motored to Alba this Tuesday.

Alfred Armstrong has again taken up his residence at the old home.

Geo. Horton and wife are visiting his father Charles Horton, who has been in very poor health all summer. They drove thru from Pontiac.

LOVELLS NEWS.

George E. Brandt and Michael Reynolds and their families of Detroit are stopping at one of the Douglas cottages here for a few weeks. Both gentlemen are well known Detroit attorneys.

Albert Pochelon and family of Detroit are at their cottage on the north branch for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Mershon are at their cabin on the north branch for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Larned of Detroit are enjoying an outing at the North Branch Outing Club.

Floyd Goshorn of Frederic was in the city on business Tuesday.

Mrs. Marlin Maxwell entertained Mrs. Ada Green of Vanderbilt last week.

LOCAL NEWS

Harry Carney was in Kalkaska on business Monday.

Hubert Babbitt left Monday for Detroit where he is employed.

Mrs. Earl Whipple and children left Monday to visit relatives and friends in Detroit.

Miss Florence Gedney of Bay City is visiting at the home of her sister Mrs. T. W. Fenton and family.

Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald of Bay City are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Havens and family.

Miss Joy Olson of Oxford left Tuesday for Johannesburg to visit her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Anrcw Larson.

Mr. and Mrs. William Butler and family returned to their home in Detroit Monday after visiting Mrs. A. Taylor and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johnson and Mrs. John Benson attended the East Jordan-Cheboygan base ball game at Cheboygan Wednesday.

Mrs. Herbert S. Wolff and little daughter of South Bend, Indiana, are guests at the H. W. Wolff summer home at Lake Margrethe.

Pearley A. Bass of Port Huron has been spending a couple of weeks at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bass, in Maple Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Adler Jorgenson, Miss Margaret Jensen, Miss Carrie Jorgenson, and Mrs. N. P. Jorgenson motored to East Jordan Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Morency and two children Eleanor and Dorothy of Detroit arrived Thursday to visit the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Morency.

Mrs. Joseph McLeod is assisting at the Hans Petersen grocery this week during the absence of Miss Lola Klingensmith who is visiting friends in Indiana.

Harold Drouillard of Detroit who has been visiting at the home of his uncle Joseph Morency and family left Tuesday afternoon for a camping trip at Otsego Lake.

Russell Peterson underwent an operation at Mercy Hospital Wednesday of last week when he had a fulminating cap of a hand grenade removed from his hand.

Mrs. James Hanson and two sons Elmer and Harvey left Saturday for Saskatchewan, Canada. Mrs. Hanson will visit for a few months, but the boys will remain there where they have employment.

Miss Marguerite Montour, a graduate of this year's class of the Grayling High School has accepted a position of book-keeper in the Dr. Key-nort offices to succeed Mrs. Esther Peterson who has resigned.

Miss Kathryn Clark has resigned her position at The Gift Shop and her place is being filled by Miss Kathryn Brown. The latter's place in the Central Drug store as soda dispenser is being filled by Ernest Olson.

Mrs. S. D. Dunham and family left Friday for Detroit to visit relatives. They were accompanied by her sister Miss Mary Gibson who has been visiting at the Dunham home for a week, but returned home Monday.

THIS WILL ASTONISH
GRAYLING PEOPLE

The QUICK action of simple camphor, hydrastis, witchhazel, etc., as mixed in Lavoptik eye wash, will surprise Grayling people. One man was helped immediately, after suffering with sore and red eyes for 15 years. An elderly lady reports Lavoptik strengthened her eyes so she can now read. One small bottle usually helps ANY CASE weak, strained or inflamed eyes. Aluminum eye cup FREE. A. M. LEWIS Drugist.

Buy the Famous Road and Race Tested OLDFIELD QUALITY TIRES

from established dealers equipped to give you real tire service at these unusual prices

30 x 3 "999" Fabric.....	$ 7.40
30 x 3 1/2 "999" Fabric.....	8.85
30 x 3 1/2 Cord.....	10.65
31 x 4 Cord.....	18.95
32 x 4 Cord.....	19.90
33 x 4 Cord.....	20.90
34 x 4 Cord.....	21.80
33 x 4 1/2 Cord.....	27.80
34 x 4 1/2 Cord.....	28.90
36 x 4 1/2 Cord.....	29.65
33 x 5 Cord.....	33.90
35 x 5 Cord.....	34.90
37 x 5 Cord.....	36.70
36 x 6 Cord.....	59.80
38 x 7 Cord.....	83.90
40 x 8 Cord.....	108.90

Oldfield Tires hold all the track records for the last three years and are the only American tires to win the French Grand Prix Road Race—the classic of Europe.

George Burke